FIGHT, TIGERS, FIGHT!!!

President's Message

Education today has many dimensions. The term dimension means that objects may possess length, breadth, and thickness. Later, in our work in algebra, we discovered that there were still other dimensions. Recent discoveries have added to the traditional three which we thought to be final. The Theory of Relativity, developed by Albert Einstein, points up the fourth dimension—time. Some conceive of college primarily in terms of length; the number of quarters, or years required to complete an under-graduate curriculum. Another group of students sees the college degree program as one providing an extensive variety of experiences. A third group looks at college, not only from the standpoint of the length of the college program, and the breadth of the program, but also from the standpoint of the depth of the learning experience.

In recent years, groups in increasing number have also opened up the horizon. Individuals in this category combine all the other groups and add the concepts of time and space. To this group, the college education means the procurement of experiences that are definite enough to qualify them for participation in the space-age economy. Such learning goes beyond memorization and mere recall. It is articulated with the student's concept of the present and the future constructed by the student.

As more and more students become aware of both their own efforts in relation to the present and the future, they will be concerned about the quality as well as the quantity of their education. There will be less satisfaction with the pursuit of a type of learning that is cloudy and confused. Theory and abstract learning, along with thinking and reasoning, will appear concrete and definite to those expecting to live successfully. Thus preparation today must consist of many dimensions.

Hypocrites Among Us

By Rosemary Camp

While discussing the subject of jazz with some of our campus, I found that many of our so-called jazz enthusiasts are fakes. Instead of writing about the jazz enthusiasts of our campus, I had to change the subject and write about the jazz hypocrites of the campus.

I discovered that this is the case with some of the "jazz lovers" on this campus. These people are in love for "cool jazz" without knowing anything, or at best, with knowing little bit of the. The frightening thing is that many of them are not trying to learn anything about it.

Do you think "the enthusiasts" know anything about jazz? They know nothing about it, please. Perhaps in a later edition of the Tiger's Roar, I can write about the jazz lovers of our campus.

progressive and hip. And believe it or not, we have "jazz enthusiasts" who are not aware of the differences among the types. To these people, Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis, and Kenny Burrell are Jerry Mulligan, simply playing the same type of music.

Do you think the "jazz enthusiasts" on the campus know that jazz started with Louis around 1945 and that without hip, wouldn't be where it is today? They do not! Do you think that progressive jazz made its start around 1945 and that Stan Kenton receives most of the credit for this? That in 1950 the movement of cool jazz came into existence and that credit for this goes to Lennie Tristram and John Lewis. In few instances were the "enthusiasts" aware of these facts.

If you would be a jazz enthusiast and not a jazz hypocrite, learn something about it, please. Perhaps in a later edition of the Tiger's Roar, I can write about the jazz lovers of our campus.

Letter From The Editor

Dear Student Body:
I feel compelled to comment about the school spirit which is being manifested at our college this fall.

I believe that the atmosphere of the school is characterized by rivalries, football games, and campus activities in general has reflected a kind of school spirit that would be, in the best sense, representative of an college anywhere! At times, during my previous years at the college, I have felt that too many of us were lacking in this respect.

Freshmen, though you have been a part of this beloved institution only a short while you have made known your loyalties through your cheering at games and singing your fervent songs of the Alma Mater.

Fellow Students, I salute you! Sincerely yours,

Julius L. Wilson, M.D., Director.

The above report is typical of the type of information that is received concerning many of the graduates of this Department.

The 1958-59 school year has "gone off to a good start" in the Biology Department, as it attempts to continue preparing young men and women to work in areas other than teaching. Students who are interested in vocations or professions other than teaching, consult some of the students who are majoring in biology at S.S.C., as they can furnish you with further information on job opportunities.

The Periscope

By James N. Nevels

Upon relating the conditions at home and abroad, the Periscope reveals that the world is in a state of well-known and seemingly never ending perplexity.

GOVERNMENT

What does a cease-fire mean? The man on the street says, "It means we just got going anywhere like this." Let us stop and talk about it. Let's talk about Lebanon and Jordan, the Middle East and Formosa, a talk about the United States. The Chinese Communists have tried by force to drive Nationalists from Quemoy and Matsu. Their purpose is to gain control of Formosa. They have tried guns, and hard shell artillery, but it didn't bring about defeat. Now they are trying sweet talk and sugar coated promises. Let us hope that our statesmanlike Chiang Kai-shek and Peng Teh-huai, Minister of National Defense for Communist China, will be able to come to an agreement which will give the free world peaceful relief.

SPACE

Less than a year after the United States sent its first satellite hurtling into space, an attempt was made to shoot a rocket to a predetermined height never before achieved. The rocket rose to a height of 79,212 miles. The rocket's destination was the moon. The Pioneer (the name given to this space traveler) came within a third of the distance, and about 100 for 43 hours. The rocket was designed to reach within 30,000 miles of the moon. In this it failed, but the Pioneer set a new record and was followed by manned air flight to the moon.

LABOR

"Jesus" James Hoffa rides again. This time the posse is led by Sheriff George Meany and Meany's aim is to drive Hoffa off the labor range. Hoffa, head of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is trying to create labor pacts throughout the nation. If he is successful, this will make him a giant figure in organized labor.

OBEDIENT

"Will 'Have lesson, Will learn' replace our favorite TV programs in the near future? The Ford Foundation is running a series of experiments regarding educational teaching programs on television. If this experiment is successful, bright students will be able to exhaust their abilities and skills by supplementing their regular classroom courses. This will also mean that the best instructors will be available to millions of students.

"Once he belonged to us . . ." This thought must have run through the minds of five hundred million Catholics and millions of other people who paid their respect to the holy remains of Pope Pius XII in St. Peter's Basilica.

Angelo Maria Giuseppe Giovanni Pacelli, 22nd pope, long believed, is now resting with his 260 predecessors. He was a holy man, a political Pope. He was brilliant, majestic and awesome. The Pope of the man you long remembered. Yes, once he belonged to us . . . "Now he belongs to the ages."

where he received his A.B. degree in Social Science. In addition, Dr. Oliver holds both a Master's degree and Ph.D. degree from Indiana University in Political Science and Sociology.

Dr. Oliver is now professor of Social Science, the Director of Faculty Research and advisor to the Social Science Club. He is presently engaged in writing a book entitled "You, Your Government and the Law."

Danforth Foundation

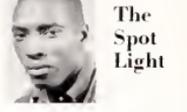

The Danforth Foundation, an educational foundation located in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the eighth class of the Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1959, for their first year of graduate study. The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of Natural and Biological Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

President W. K. Payne has named C. Vernon Clay as the Liaison Officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or three named three candidates for the Danforth Fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as they may be needed. The maximum annual grant for Single Fellows is $1,000 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students; for married Fellows, $1,900 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students with an additional stipend of $350 for child. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply. A Danforth Fellow is allowed to carry other scholarship appointments, such as Rhodes, Fulbright, Woodrow Wilson, Marshall, etc., concurrently with his Danforth Fellowship, and applicants for these appointments are invited to apply at the same time for a Danforth Fellowship. If a man receives the Danforth Appointment, together with a Rhodes Scholarship, Fulbright Scholarship, and Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, he becomes a Danforth Fellow without stipend, until these other relationships are completed.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Minnowa in Michigan next September.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability; personality congenial to the character and integrity and classroom, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by January 31, 1959. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with our Liaison Officer.

The Spot Light

By Ernestine Hill

The crowd was going wild—the player fell a few yards from the goal line. As he fell he tapped the ball only about three feet from the ground. It was at this point that Ulysses Stanley swooped the ball up and ran for a touchdown. And so it shall go down in Savannah State College football history as a spectacular play—and Stanley's name shall be associated with it.

Stanley, a native of Dublin, Georgia, is a graduate of Oconee High School. He is a senior majoring in Physical Education. The young man, noted for his neatness in dress, looks as if he stepped "right out of Esquire" even when he wears "blue jeans." Stan's taste in music runs from Debussy to Dakota State.

Stanley has a sophisticated air. Yet there is a ruggedness about him that makes him quite appealing.

His hobbies are cards, Deloris, dancing, music, Deloris, sports and Deloris.

Presently his great desire is to become a Physical Therapist. This writer is happy to add Ulysses Stanley to the list of Spotlight Subjects.

Poetry Consultant, Frost, Interviewed

By James Nevels

Robert Frost, internationally famous poet who is the Poetry Consultant at the Library of Congress, was interviewed at a news conference. Mr. Frost gave his views on modern poetry and separated it into two classes. According to Frost the first class consists of that poetry which is obscure, abstract and incomprehensible. . . . "This type," says Mr. Frost, "is born dead." The second type of modern poetry includes that which is written in intelligible, clear, simple, easy-to-read, easy-to-understand language. This type is being written Mr. Frost concluded.

Some of this famed author's recommendations are "Stoppage Words On A Snowy Evening," "Home Burial," "A Lone Striker," "The Death of the Hired Man" and "After Apple Picking."

Dear Dr. Griffith:
I am very happy to report to you that Miss Gerabell Dawkins has been doing excellent work in the clinical laboratory of the Henry Phelps Institute.

Miss Dawkins started work here as a technician on January 30, and she has picked up the methods which we use and she had reached such a degree of proficiency and reliability by July that it was possible to trust her with the operation of the laboratory during the vacation of the senior medical technician.

We are very pleased with Miss Dawkins' personality and quiet, cheerful spirits as well as with her every day work.

Student Opinions

By Sara Reynolds

The question "Why is it that students make such little use of the Alpha Kappa Mu Tutorial System?" was asked several students. They made these statements:

Richard Fitzgerald, senior, suggests, "The students may be bashful and since the tutors are also students, they may be reluctant to admit that they do not know their subject matter."

Sunny White, senior, states that "There are several students who don't know the members of the tutorial system and they are too lazy to find out. However, there are several students who seek help from upperclassmen who have the same major and are not necessarily members of the tutorial system."

Jimmie Colson, senior, indicates "Many students may be reluctant to secure aid from the members of the tutorial system because they feel the tutors are not qualified."

Johnny Strong, sophomore, says, "Perhaps some students desire help, but don't know the tutors."

Jessie Carter, junior, states, "Perhaps some tutors do not indicate by their attitudes their availability for assisting students."

Marion Dingle, junior, feels, "The students may think that the tutors are too busy."

Delores Julian, junior, states, "I don't know why the students do not use the tutorial system. The students in general should be proud to accept the opinions of other students who may have something valuable to offer them."

Tigers Enjoy Good Season

By Eddie Bryant and Roscoe Camp

Fullback Ulysses Stanley staged a fine exhibition of passing, running, and brilliant defensive work to lead the Savannah State Tigers to a 24-0 victory in Jacksonville, Florida.

The Tigers scored three touchdowns and completed two conversions. Other outstanding Tigers in this game were Moses King, Willie Batchelor, Floyd Walker, and Lawrence Williams. A week later the Tigers picked up their second win of the season defeating Florida Normal College by a score of 22-20. This game was a thriller from the start.

The Tigers, led by two good quarterbacks, Roland James and Samuel White, fought to weaken the defense of Florida Normal College. But this didn't stop the charging Florida Tigers. Only a conversion was the deciding factor in a hard fought game that ended in Savannah State's favor. Morris College, often thought of as a hard team to whip, proved to be "easy picking" for our Tigers. With Moses King and Ulysses Stanley in tip-top form, the Tigers piled up 28 points compared to 14 by Morris College.

The Tigers out played the Hornets of Morris College all the way. Outstanding on defense in this game were Jolly Stephens, Leroy Brown, Willie Dukes, and Hossie Harris.

Undeclared in three games, the Tigers traveled to Columbia, S. C., the 25th of October to take on the Benedict College Tigers. This game turned out to be a heart breaker. From the kick-off through the first half the Tigers showed amazing power on the ground and in the air.

The Benedict fans (about 4,000 persons) were silent through that first half because the Savannah State Tigers were running their carefully planned homecoming. At the end of the first half Savannah State led 12-0. The second half brought

Fashion Notes

Freshmen, here are some hints concerning wardrobes from upperclassmen to calm your jitters, if you have any.

What style should you wear now that you are in college? How large should your clothes budget be? I have assembled these wardrobe hints given by many upperclassmen.

COATS: "This will be your biggest item," says Gwendolyn Riggs, a 19-year-old sophomore who hails from Savannah, Georgia. And versatility is the word to describe it. Gwendolyn suggests double breasted coat in natural or eyed darker shades. "I dress mine up with a hat and it's fine for church or parties," she says.

A basic tweed or black coat is Nellie Shelman's choice. Nellie, a 20-year-old junior, is buying a black coat for herself this fall.

SEPARATES: "Keep the number down to a bare minimum," says Minnie Ruth Smith, an 18-year-old transfer student from Howard University, who mentions the size of her dormitory closet. And "Don't throw out your high school sweaters and skirts," says Pauline Jordan, another sophomore. "Remember, no one else has seen them."

"For additions to your sportswear, buy a blanket plaid skirt with matching top," says Carolyn Stafford, who predicts she'll see lots of bold bright outfits in Savannah State's halls.

Bulky knit sweaters worn with jumpers in chemise or empire styles are the favorites of Kay F. Hamilton, a 21-year-old junior.

There's less enthusiasm about the new mohair knits. "One for novelty is all you'll need," Margaret Burney, a 22-year-old senior, has stated.

On campus, Juanita Baker, a 21-year-old senior, predicts she'll see lots of tapered slacks and crew neck sweaters. For those who like the unusual or are uncomfortable in wool, there's wide-wale corduroy, a heavy, durable material back this fall.

DRESSES - WOOL: "This is the college fabric for casual as well as dressy wear," says Eldora Manning, a junior who's 21.

"The empire, of all the new styles, is most flattering to the figure and dressed, as well," adds Gwendolyn Davis, who'll wear her new empire to fraternity parties this fall.

Most of the young ladies prefer classic sheaths and full-skirted styles, but recommend the new fall colors: benedictine orange, taupe, and moss green. One traditional cotton, perhaps a paisley print, is a must for those who are wary of our Indian Summer weather at times.
