Home Economics Bazaar Rated Greater Than Ever

The Division of Home Economics had its annual Bazaar Friday, December 10, at the recently renovated Hammond Hall from five to ten p. m.

From the clothing area were made and displayed a variety of beautiful aprons for all members of the family, shoe bags, kleenex box covers with sorority insignias, cake aprons, collars, children's bath robes, toys, guest towels, bridge sets and luncheon sets.

The food classes made, for sale, delicious layer cakes, hot rolls, pies. Barbecue, fried fish, coffee, hot dogs, fried chicken, and potato salad were deliciously cooked for immediate consumption—and was it good!

There were games and dancing for the enjoyment of everyone. The proceeds from the sales are to go into the club treasury for a mural, depicting the history of Home Economics, for the lobby of the Home Economics Building and to send a student representative to the meeting of the American Home Economics Association.

Book Week Observed

By Nancy Smith

In keeping with the observance of Book Week, members of the student body presented an appropriate program of "book talks." Each student gave a brief discussion of two books.

Miss Barbara Brunson gave the significance of Book Week. George Johnson discussed Not As a Stranger and Love Is Eternal; Mrs. Gwendolyn E. Brown discussed Yeungblood and Mary Anne; Red Carpet For Marie and I'll Cry Tomorrow were discussed by George Williams.

Immediately following the program everyone attended open house at the library.

Dates Set For Annual Campus Leadership Institute

The dates for the Annual Leadership Institute for the current school year are January 16-21, 1955. The Institute, which is under the auspices of the Personnel Department, is being conducted by the following committee: Mr. George B. Williams and Miss Madeline Harrison, co-chairmen, Miss Johnnie M. Williams, Miss Carolyn Patterson, Miss Louella Johnson, Mr. Prince Wynn, Mr. Eugene Isaac, Mr. W. J. Holloway.

The chief emphasis of the Institute is to assist in the improvement of our student leaders of campus organizations. If this goal is achieved, then our future community leaders should be better prepared to take their places in all phases of civic life. In its attempt to reach this goal, the Institute emphasizes, the selection of leaders, the responsibilities of leaders and those who follow, the proper use of parliamentary procedure.

The Institute hopes to reach all students through its assembly program. In the smaller clinics on parliamentary procedure it will work with all officers of all student organizations, and their advisors. Through the freshman and sophomore orientation classes it hopes to discuss as many phases of leadership as the students think necessary.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

HAPPY NEW YEAR

From the Staff

Greetings from the Student Council Box

By Curtis V. Cooper

We are rapidly approaching the yuletide season when all of us will pause from our daily chores to pay tribute to the miracle of Bethlehem.

Christmas is a time for joy. It is a time when all of our burdens should be lifted. Our hearts should be filled with the spirit of giving, and a new look toward our tasks should be assumed.

America is a wonderful place, and we hope that, in spite of the opposing forces of the world, we will be able to keep it that way. This is a land of freedom, of good will, of future, and of inspiration for the oppressed. In this land we know and observe the true message of that most wonderful star that shined in the east, signifying that God the creator of all had given men a savior who would reign as King of Kings, and Lord of Lords forever.

Let us join hands with the people of this country, and the peoples of the world in paying respect to the greatest gift in the history of the world.

Let us this Christmas season make noble and liberal contributions to CARE, to the United Community Fund, to the Cancer Fund, to the Tuberculosis campaign, to our churches, to the YMCA, and YWCA, and to those persons in our communities and those abroad, who are in need of our aid. We urge both students and faculty members to accept this challenge. And, with this challenge, we hope you will remember the savior's message that it is better to give than to receive.

We certainly hope that this Christmas will be one of the merriest you have ever known. And when you return in '55, may your new year be filled with happiness and achievement here at the college.

A Look Into The News

By Tom Evans

Will a Democratic Congress block the Eisenhower program? How far will it go along with the President on vital problems which it must consider coming session? These are some of the questions that are foremost in the minds of the American people.

Democratic senator from Texas, Mr. Lyndon Johnson, who will be the Senate Majority Leader in the next session of the Senate, outlines the prospect as he sees it.

What will the Democrats do about the McCarthy censure if no vote is reached this year? We will face up to the issue. We will be ready to vote now, we have been ready to vote for quite sometime. If an issue should be faced at this Congress and circumstances prevented from being faced, we will certainly live up to our responsibilities and face it when we take over.

Democratic legislative program? We will proceed as rapidly as possible to build up the nation's defenses; to assure our farmers a fairer share of the national income; to break the bottleneck of foreign trade; to broaden the credit base and put an end to the evil effects of high and low prices.

To what extent do you expect to cooperate with President Eisenhower? Naturally, we don't share the what will be in the program which he will present to the next Congress. The only thing that can be said now is that we Democrats will cooperate on any measure which our inner conscience tells us will advance the best interests of the country. But in any event, there will be no compromise of the integrity of the President or upon his intentions.

Where will you not go along with the President? At the moment, the most important issue in disagreement is the Dixon-worred sentiments on it. His memo will read it you know, not to share every one of his policies. Don't give out photographs promiscuously. Any boy but your true love will be embarrassed to receive such a gift. Of equal importance, it is his meaning if passed wholesale.

When to give gifts: Christmas and birthdays are traditional gift-giving times, but there are other times when you might give a little gift.

Gifts between girls should be in good taste too. What good friends may give each other practically anything from nickles to nail polish—the gifts should not be too expensive. Many gifts should show a bit of ingenuity as well as generosity. Be as observant as you can and give accordingly: a set of miniature lipstick to the younger sister who is experimenting with makeup; a scarf for mother that exactly matches her eyes; a good brace and bit for a handyman dad.

When you are given a present, open it at once so that the giver can see your pleased expression. Thank the giver with a sincerity, but be careful not to carry on so about it that you are obviously feigning delight. If a gift arrives from an absent friend, don't ever hesitate to dash off a thank-you letter within a day or two.

Remember that friendships do not grow without words whether "her present to me" as expensive as the one I gave her" or "I gave her that when she was present, and she didn't give me one." Good friends give a little or a lot when the spirit moves. If you are the one who is the gift giver behind any gift that counts.

Message from the President

Christmas Is Always New

As the Christmas season draws near, one should see it as an entirely new experience. The concept of Christmas is expected to show growth and maturity. The enjoyment of it must be related to experiences through which one has passed during the year and the years before. Each year provides an additional supply of ideas, memories, and understandings. It is safe to say that the richer the experiences that one has had the deeper and more meaningful will be the Christmas joys.

It is necessary to prepare for Christmas as one would prepare for any other special occasion. There is no inference that one should prepare to have the most joyous and the happiest Christmas. Happiness and joy do not come to those who seek them as goals or ends in themselves. These are to be found when one is properly and sincerely engaged in providing for the increased comfort, happiness, and joy of others. This activity is less related to financial expenditures than to the expression of interest, care, and love. Christmas is a time when individuals forget themselves and think of their fellow men. Whatever is associated with the observance of Christmas are varied, rapid, and emotionally charged. While to many they may seem extraneous and neglected, these activities provide the conditions for the atmosphere which makes the Christmas Spirit contagious. It is perhaps the most important season of the year for the promotion of thinking in terms of the welfare of mankind. Perhaps at no other season of the year do individuals wish to have hearts larger and greater means for expression of good will than at Christmas time.

The college students in the year will find many opportunities to express their growth in the concept of Christmas. The books which they will read during the holiday season, the friendships that will be renewed and acquaintances that will be formed provide a vacation from the routine of study. This change from the regular program must, however, be influenced by the daily life of the student, just as it is with an individual in any other vocation. Those who grow from year to year never construct for themselves two Christmases which are alike. Whatever activity may occupy today, he has something which others would enjoy having him share. In this life of individuals and giving one experiences the new Christmas each year.

There is no best way of choosing the right book or the recommended book for your Christmas reading or giving. To help us make this decision we can rely on the Reviewers or the "Best Seller" lists. Although the literary critics and the "Lists" are often at variance, a reader should not hesitate to examine and appraise a book that the reading public has purchased consistently from week to week, often without the critics' approval.

Norman Vincent Peale's The Power of Positive Thinking is a popular and reviewer approved book. Starting in October 1953, this title has continuously been on all best seller lists. It is significant that this book which gives men and women a deeper understanding of themselves has remained so popular.

The following are among the outstanding books of the year on government, politics, history and adventure: Adlai E. Stevenson's Call to Greatness. All who remember the picturesque radio speeches made during his 1952

Christmas, A Triangle

As we think in terms of observing Christmas, suppose we think of the observance from a three-fold point of view or from a triangular point of view. There are three elements with varying degrees of importance.

The first element is sacredness. Sacred, because it is the birthday of our savior being, Jesus Christ. The second element is thankfulness. Be ye thankful unto God for having bestowed his love and mercy and kindness upon us and who gave us life itself. The third element is giving. There is an art in giving. Give not with the expectation of receiving, but give because there is an inner motive which urges you to do so with a warm spirit and a willing mind. Give because there is a definite need to do so. Put sunshine in someone's life by giving.

The Christmas Story:
Giving and Receiving

By Ross M. Stubbs '56
Christmas is part of a family affair. Dad sometimes thinks he is playing Santa for the entire town when holiday bills start flowing in. Mother feels like taking to her bed for a long, long rest after days of baking, cleaning, decorating the halls with holiday decoration, and overseeing the sundries and food which are a part of the family's Christmas spirit.

The kiddies are wrapped up in the giving and receiving of Christmas time and in looking forward to Saint Nicholas' arrival on Christmas Eve night. The first of all we should know how the custom of giving gifts at Christmas time came into existence. According to one tradition there were three sisters living on the outskirts of Syria who wanted to get married. They had their future husbands selected and were all ready to "pop the question." No doubt they had those who are unfortunate, those who can be made happy because of a simple, yet meaningful gift.

There you have the triangle. It is a triangle because it has three sides, two of which are of equal importance. The first element represents the base of the triangle. The base because without the birth of Christ there would be no life. It is the part by which all other phases of life must pass. The latter two elements represent the two sides of the triangle, which are of equal importance.

So when we are about to observe or celebrate Christmas, let us think of the triangle—the three major elements: sacredness, thankfulness, and giving. These three mean Christmas. Will you celebrate Christmas in the right way?

the perfect spot picked to build a new home. According to the custom of that day, a woman was expected to present her suitor with a dowry, which consisted of money or property, before he would take her for his bride.

But the sisters were poor and could not offer a dowry. The good Saint Nicholas heard of their situation and came to their rescue. One dark night while the sisters lay sleeping and dreaming empty dreams, Saint Nicholas passed by their home and left a bundle on the doorstep, containing a respectable dowry for each of the three young ladies. The girls were married and lived the traditional happy life thereafter.

From this legend came the custom of giving gifts at Christmas time, making Saint Nicholas one of the best loved symbols of the season.

Hints to Gift-Givers

By Pauline Silas
Oee, girls and boys, Christmas is almost around the corner and it is sure you are wondering what kind of gift you are going to give that "dear" of yours. Well, here are a few helpful hints of do's and don'ts.

Traditionally, expensive gifts are in vogue to receive and boys as are items of apparel like underwear, dresses, and shoes which are just too personal. Among gifts that may be exchanged are: books, inexpensive jewelry, pens, stationery, and items relating to hobbies, car gadgets, and the recent "toys" and candy are standard items for boys to give girls. Candy is also a good gift for girls to give boys.

A picture of yourself for your best "bear" this is the absolute best of all. However, guard against scrawling extravagantly

YWCA NEWS

The Young Women's Christian Association sponsors the campus-wide Young People's Thanksgiving Communion Service with the able assistance of our college minister. This has come to be an annual observance and each year it seems that the interest in this service increases. In spite of the early hour and the low temperature, the attendance was very good. We hope that we can make the service such a stimulating one that all students and faculty members who remain on the campus for the Thanksgiving holidays will participate in the service.

For our Christmas meeting we have planned a worship service in keeping with the season and the telling of at least one Christmas story. Our special attraction for the meeting will be our guest, Miss Alberta Williams. Miss Williams will give instructions in the attractive and effective wrapping of Christmas gifts. Since everyone exchanges gifts at Christmas time, we felt that all students, both men and women, would be interested in learning new ways to make these gifts attractive.

LES MODES

By Mercedes Mitchell '55

The swiftly approaching Christmas season is upon us and it finds everyone in a festive mood, even the season's colors have the tendency to be bright and colorful. The ripe, rich tangerines and forest green rate as "Hit Number One" in the parade of colors.

Many parties and dances will be given during this joyous season, but let us take time out amidst the hilarious mood of gaiety to realize the true meaning of Christmas. The season's wardrobe, white is symbolic of that mood—white being pure and sacred.

The regular Christmas colors—red and green—still find their place in the rainbow of Christmas fashions. Many party dresses, made of crisp tulle, soft satin, and diamanté are red—the color of the Christmas season.

Accessories, as well as the major part of the outfit, can be in the green hue. Should the garment be plaid or floral, green finds itself in the design of beauty. Irrespective of the green served as a base for the lighter colors and solid green is lovely, a beautiful cool looking fall color.

The columnist extends to the many readers "A Joyous Yuletide Season." See you next year!"

Sports As I See It

By James O'Neal

Although the Savannah State Tigers won only one game this season, one can very well see that it was a much improved team over last season. The Tigers scored only six points last season while their opponents were scoring at will with an amazing total of 435 points. This season the Tigers averaged six points per game and held their opponents to 260 points. Savannah managed to score against all of their opponents except Alabama State College.

Much of the success of the team can be given to head coach Ross Peasley who took over the team at the beginning of the season with little chance of scoring and no chance of winning. Well done, Peasley. Luck to you next season.

Four of Savannah State's players were named to the All S. E. A. C. football teams. On the first team were sophomore guard Albert Struthlins and senior fullback William Weatherpoon. Sophomore halfback Robert Butler and senior end James O'Neal were placed on the second team.

With two All S. E. A. C. players returning next year and a much improved team to lead, the Tigers will be hard to beat. Five seniors donned their white and orange for the last time as they ended their collegiate football careers.

careers Thanksgiving Day. The seniors are James Ashe, James Willis, William Weatherpoon, James Collier, and Louis Conyers. Although most of your collegiate football has been with a losing team, you have proved that you can take it when the chips are down. Nice going, fellows, and luck to you.

Now that football is a thing of the past and the fans are beginning to get the basketball fever, let us take a look at the Tigers' basketball team. Last year the Tigers were rated among the top Negro teams of the Nation. With all the same players back plus the freshmen and other newcomers, they are expected to equal or better last year's record.

Last season the Tigers won both the S. E. A. C. conference and tournament championship. They were also invited to the national tournament at Nashville, but were eliminated by Texas Southern in the first round. The overall record for the season was 23 victories and 9 defeats.

This season, the Tigers will probably dominate everything in their conference. However, the team has a heavier conference schedule . . . so your guess is as good as mine.

Tiger Cagers Lose

Opener to S. C. Bulldogs
The Savannah State Tigers lost their first home game of the season as the South Carolina Bulldogs came from behind with only seconds to play to edge the Tigers 65-62.

Before the game was a minute old, the Tigers jumped out in front with a six-point lead but found themselves trailing the Bulldogs 21-31 at the half.

Savannah's Cecilio Williams, who scored only six points in the first half, came back with 26 points in the last half to give Savannah a three point lead with two minutes left in the game. The "never say die" Bulldogs came back with 6 quiet points to win the game 65-62.

The Tigers will play three more games before Christmas: North Carolina State College at Durham on December 11, Benedict on December 14, and Clark College of Atlanta on December 17.

It is the belief now that a meeting of the Big Four before the end of 1955 is a definite fact. The principals would be Eisenhower, Churchill, Mendes-France and Malenkov.

The object of the meeting would be to find a way other than perpetual cold warfare, by which the Communist East and the Democratic West can feel reasonably secure in inhabiting the same globe.

However, it is the belief of this columnist that the pre-conditions will have an effect upon this conference. The Brussels and Paris agreements providing a free West Germany, must be ratified and in effect. The Russians must evidence sincerity.

The above conditions would fit the president's own clearly drawn foreign policy line, which calls for a determined effort to keep the peace and to flatly reject the alternative of an East-West atomic war.

The Savannah State Tigers won their first game in two years as they edged Paine College of Augusta 7 to 0 in the Annual Thanksgiving Classic at Savannah State Athletic Field.

This was also the first victory of Coach Ross Peasley at S. S. C., who has taken over as head mentor of the Tigers this year. The last game the Tigers won was against Paine College in 1952 when they defeated Paine 20-0.

The first three quarters found the team being able to score because of the hard bruising tackling. Savannah State threatened to score early in the second quarter when halfback Robert Butler ran 46 yards to Paine's 26 yard line.

After receiving the kickoff in the third quarter, the Tigers running attack began to click with halfbacks Jerry Turner, Robert Butler, and William Weatherpoon doing the running. These three backs moved the ball from their own ten-yard line down to Paine's 26 yard line. This drive was stopped when Paine's halfback Charles Mathis intercepted one of quarterback Daniel Burns' passes, and ran it back to his own 47 yard line. On the fourth down Paine was forced to kick from their own 40 down to Savannah's 25 yard line. Quarterback Daniel Burns returned the punt back to the mid-field stripe. After two punting plays which gained no yardage, halfback Butler passed to fullback Weatherpoon on 25 yards, and he ran the ball to Paine's 31 yard line. Again it was Weatherpoon going through to the center of the line for 10 yards which gave Savannah a first down Paine's 1 yard line. At this point Paine put on one of the greatest line stands of the game when they refused to let the Tigers cross over into paydirt. The third quarter ended with Paine taking over on their one yard line.

Taking no chances with the kick in the territory, Paine kicked on the first down, and Savannah took over on Paine's 32 yard line. On the first play, fullback Robert Butler shook off three would-be Paine tacklers, and raced 32 yards over Paine's goal line standing up for 6 points and the only touchdown of the game. Quarterback Daniel Burns ran off tackle for the extra point.

The outstanding players for Savannah were Jerry Turner, Albert Schuchman, Robert Butler, Robert Dulaney, William Weatherpoon, and James Willis. Paine was led by Calvin Turner, Jesse Oray and Charles Mathis.
