Poll Reveals Students Would Patronize Integrated Theaters

(UPI)—The results of a canvassing of the student body of the University of North Carolina during Brotherhood Week last month has revealed that over 80% of the students questioned (1879) at the University would continue to patronize local theaters if they were open to persons of all races.

The poll, conducted by a volunteer student group, was intended to find out if claims of theater owners that their business would fall off if they were to integrate were valid.

Students in each living unit were given a questionnaire, the completion of which was optional.

Of the 1879 returned forms, 803 (42.7%) indicated the No. 1 choice requesting the opening of the theaters to all. 28.18% checked the No. 2 alternative indicating that they would continue patronizing the theaters. 16% checked the No. 3 choice, indicating opposition to the policy but stating that they would continue patronage.

The paper also cites, as indication that theater seats are "growing cold under the present segregated arrangement" the recent practice of offering free showings to fraternity and sorority groups during prime evening hours at the Carolina Theater.

FEATURES

Esquire's CLUB & CAMPUS FASHIONS

BY D. E. SCHOEFFLER Esquire's Fashion Director

Defining "sportswear" is a somewhat sticky wicket in a column for university men. Apparel which is considered appropriate only for leisure wear on one campus, may be perfectly suitable for the classroom or even for casual dates on another.

Therefore, I'll not attempt to dictate when the following fashions should be worn... that's up to each man on each campus to decide for himself. These are the newsmakers in the general sportswear field for the warm seasons ahead:

YOU NEVER HAD IT SO LIGHT in jackets! The new crop of wash-and-wear jackets in combinations of Duonon and cotton are almost shifting weight, and inclined in the bargain. Two positive trends are notable: giant plaids for the pacesetter; subtle colorings in the native craft fabrics (batik, nadras, Kalmikari) for the conservatives. Outstanding color-mates in the plaids will be either olive and blue or olive and grey. These look best with solid color lightweight trousers in deep olive or grey. Complete the outfit with a classic, button-down collar shirt in white or the new "fute" color... a light natural tan, especially effective with olive.

THE BRITISH-INFLUENCED BLAZERS, created with Yankee know-how, are currently in great favor. Choose a natural-shoulder, single-breasted version with metal buttons in navy or one of the newer hues... olive, gold or light grey. The double-breasted blazers are smartest in navy, accented with white pearl buttons.

THE KNITS ARE IT for casual shirts in cotton, Banlon or blends. These, in the conventional, solid-color, short-sleeved pullover style will be offered in light tan, gold or olive. For kicks, pick one in bright red. Note, too, the great variety with contrasting border stripes at collar and sleeve edge, and another group with knit collars and button plackets half-way down the front.

CHECK THE NEW SLACKS... in checks, stripes and plaids. The fabrics are lightweight and washable. Basic tan chinos continue to be popular, but let yourself go and add at least one pair of patterned slacks to your Summer wardrobe this year.

SWEATER COLLECTORS will want to investigate the semi-blendables in pullover or six-button cardigan style. These look warmer than they are because the knits are very porous and many are of cotton or blends, as well as very lightweight wools. White is still the number one choice for warm weather, but tan, gold and olive are also good.

Advance tip: on my recent fashion-scouting trip through Europe and the Scandinavian countries I saw patterned sweaters everywhere, some in such wild color combinations as purple, orange and white.

STANDOUT SHOES in the sportswear category are the hi-risers... either slip-on or laced dress style. Choose yours in olive or natural tan in brushed leather.

WHAT'S AHEAD: In the next column, we'll clear up some of the confusion about correct formalwear and accessories, and report on the new trends in beachwear. So long, for now.

Space Food
Travelers to outer space may have to grow their own food en route, reports the May Reader's Digest. It is estimated that a space traveler will need about seven pounds of food and water per day. Since this need would make long trips impractical, scientists are studying the possibility of using sunlight to raise nutritious, fast-growing algae during flight.

Vanishing Americans
Each year an estimated one million Americans vanish—most of them deliberately. Lt. John J. Cronin, former chief of New York's Missing Persons Bureau says the May Reader's Digest that the chief reason for such disappearances is "to escape a problem which looks overpowering." Spring and fall are the peak seasons for vanishing. Most men vanish than women, and married women disappear more frequently than single ones.

Men's Fashions By Eddie Bryant

OUTLETS SEEN FOR STYLE SCENE

This year even more than last, the vernal style scene promises to be a harmonious blend of tradition and innovation that should provide more ample outlets for both conservative and liberal tastes.

Things to Come
The shape of things to come will change a bit, but only the perceptive eye will notice. Happily, the natural shoulder hasn't been touched, but the new jackets will be looser by a half-inch than heretofore, and their lapels will be slightly wider. Waist suppression, gentle but noticeable, will be back, and you can expect to find more patch flap pockets on solid-color coats. Slacks will retain their slim and clean-lined silhouette, but with a decline in elasticated waistbands. Belt loops will be disappearing, and with them, a sumptuous variety of new belts in both leathers and fabrics. But the biggest news is the triumphal revival of stripes: candy stripes, boater stripes, aviator stripes, ice cream parlor stripes. On blazers, sweaters, swim trunks walking shorts, belts, dresses and sport shirts, they promise to infuse the style season with an atmosphere of carnival gaiety that has not been enjoyed since the stripe-candy heyday of the 1920's.

The dress shirt picture reveals the same balance between traditionalism and experimentation. The tidy tab collar in both snap-fastener and collar button styles, still will be a handsome complement to your spring and summer wardrobe of suits and ties, and much dressier than the buttondown. But watch for the introduction of a short, modified spread collar as a London shirt feature. The most noteworthy news item is the proliferation of the short-sleeve, tapered body dress shirt in a multitude of new patterns, colors and collar styles.

Where Is Your Shangri-la?

By Katie Williams '59
"Romance, like a ghost, eludes touching," said the noted American essayist and editor, T. W. Curtis. "It is always where you were, not where you are." Almost every well traveled person has a favorite spot on the earth somewhere; a place he regards as supremely romantic. But fortunately, it is not necessary to be a world traveler to have a favorite romantic place, be it a favorite movie, television and magazine, we can tear the world vicariously and search for Shangri-la in our living rooms.

Most people agree on the qualities that make a place romantic. First, it must be a place where we can do the things we enjoy doing. Second, it must possess breath-taking beauty. Lastly, the places we remember as romantic are invariably those we associate with memorable people or circumstances. One young couple who have traveled extensively claim the most romantic place in the world is Sea Island, Ga. Reason? They spent their honeymoon there.

To attempt to name the most romantic place in the world would seem to be as presumptuous as attempting to define or beauty. Each finding has his own days. For finding a place romantic — reasons involving loving, people, and circumstances.

Campus Spotlight

By Veronica Owens

The Campus Spotlight cites another outstanding personality in this issue, Bobby Burgess. He is the cordial and versatile fellow on campus that is known and respected by all who are acquainted with him.

Bobby is a graduate of Candler County Training School, in Metter, Georgia. The fall of the year he graduated from high school, he enrolled as a freshman at Savannah State College. Since that time, he has endeavored and excelled in numerous aspects of education on the campus. Presently, he is a junior majoring in Chemistry.

He has the honor of being a Tutor in the Alpha Kappa Mu Tutorial System. He secured this position because of his knowledge and keen understanding of Government.

Recently, Bobby served as the General Secretary for the Annual Men's Festival Committee. He has also been active in the following organizations: Young Men's Christian Association; Vice President, Wright Hall Dormitory Council; Member, Committee on Student Teacher Education; Member, Pan-Hellenic Council; Chairman, Social Committee, Savannah State College Student Center; Member, Delta Eta Chapter, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated; Member, Tiger's Roar Staff; and Honor Student, 1959-60.

In addition to the numerous activities Bobby is affiliated with, he still finds the time to have some interesting hobbies. He enjoys listening to modern jazz, reading current news, playing basketball, and attending the movies.

A versatile person is truly one to be admired. And, consequently, that is why Bobby Burgess was one of the persons chosen this month to take center stage in the Campus "Spotlight."

Another outstanding personality in the Campus Spotlight this month is Rosemary Singleton. She is the petite little miss that everyone knows as "Rose." She has earned this distinction because of her pleasing personality and enviable school record.

After graduating from Tompkins High School in 1957, she enrolled at Savannah State College. Since that time, she has excelled scholastically and educationally. Evidence of this is the "Business Award" she received from the Business Department last year for excellence in business.

Presently, Rose is a senior majoring in Business Administration. She plans to obtain her B.S. degree in Business and do further study on the subject in graduate school.

Last year Rosemary reigned as the attendant to "Miss Alpha" 1960-61.

YOU ARE ONE OF THESE

By Verdel LaVerne Lambert

When it comes to eating, there are only two classes of people: those who live to eat and those who eat to live. It is only necessary to know what a body eats to determine what class he belongs to. If an individual eats as though he were fattening himself for the market, he would belong to the first class. If he eats barely enough to keep an art alive, he would belong to the latter class. Consequently, inasmuch as there are only two classes of people—you are one of these.

Fifteen scores and fifty-two years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation—the gluttonists! The entire world knew of their greatness—for they were great in width and great in appetite. But then, what made them such excessive eaters? History tells us that they were motivated by greed—the greed for food. They believed strongly in the biblical quotation: "Man can not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth, they would eat meats, vegetables, fats, and sweets lavishly.

Most gluttonists eat about ten pounds of food each day. And it is with joy and delight that they sit down to ravage and devour their food. They tear their meat asunder, bite into the bones, and swallow the solid food in large pieces.

If you were to meet a gluttonist on the street, you would recognize him instantly. All of them have the forward look and are generally bulky people.

People who eat to live are often referred to as "skinny bones." The "skinny bones" fast frequently when in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for them to eat, they do so sparingly. Their lack of interest in food is due mostly to their desire to acquire an attractive figure or a slim physique. And so, day after day they consume pills to lose their appetites while their flesh waste away.

Their choice of foods would be quite repulsive to the gluttonists. Like the vegetarians, they eat lettuce, cabbage, squash, spinach, etc.

If you were to meet a "skinny bone" on the street, you would recognize him instantly. All of them have the recessive look and are generally skinny people.

Gluttons! Oh gluttons! The next time you sit down at a table to eat, take heed that thy greedness does not overcome thee. "Skinny bones"! Oh "skinny bones"! The next time you sit down at a table to eat, you would do well to pattern after the gluttonists, for they are a great race of people. A word to the wise is sufficient, is it not?

Professor Speaks On "Success"

By Alphonso S. McLean

"Everyone seeks the secret of success," said William H. Bowen, Associate Professor of Economics at Savannah State College, as he addressed more than 1,000 students during the weekly Chapel Hour, Thursday.

"There's no straightforward formula for success. For most people the word success is the rightful place in life one has attained through hard work," he told the assembly. Professor Bowen cited occasions in history where some of the most successful men in the world considered themselves failures because that which they wanted most could not be achieved. "We should change our conception of success and never let failures defeat our individual aspirations and intended goals," he said. He urged the group to grasp hold of individual ideals and develop them.

In his conclusion he stated, "When we think of success we should think of making the most of our lives to help others to make this world a better place in which to live."

Mr. Bowen, who lectures in Economics and Accounting, earned the Masters of Business Administration Degree in Accounting from New York University and has taught at Savannah State College for eight years.

THE SPORTS SCENE

Major League Baseball

Great Leveling in Major League Baseball

In major league baseball, 1961 may eventually become the year of the great leveling. The National League has three teams—the Phillies, Reds and Cubs that appear to have no chance at the pennant—in the American League the present race seems to be tight with the Kansas City Athletics, the Boston Red Sox, the Detroit Tigers and the two new teams the Los Angeles Angels, and the Washington Senators fighting early for the championship. This year the talent is divided so equally that a New York writer voted in a spring training poll that the Minnesota Twins was his choice for the pennant. Nine other New York writers picked the New York Yankees.

Yankees Are Strong

The Yankees are strong, fast and replete with fearsome batsmen. Assuming the new office of Yankee manager is Ralph Houk, Houk has his job cut out to prove himself capable of replacing the old War Horse Casey Stengel. Age may be a slowing down factor to the White Sox but the acquisition of Juan Pizarro and Cal McFish could give them that added upbit needed to keep in the running. Showing improvement over last season are the Cleveland Indians.

Pirates National League Favorites

In the National League it is said that this League is more balanced than any ever before in the history of the game. The Pittsburgh Pirates are the favorites. Also standing a good chance are the Milwaukee Braves, Los Angeles Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals, and the San Francisco Giants to cap the National League Pennant.

This baseball season will offer fans the thrill and excitement of trying to predict a winner for both leagues.

Spring Probation Brightens Campus

By Norman B. Elmore

As the spring season arrived, so did the annual probation and initiation period for the Greek Letter Organizations here on campus. There was a multiplicity of hilarity witnessed on campus as a result of the singing, ducking, dancing, marching, and funny stunts performed by the various probates. At the height of the noon hour, the fun seemed to reach its zenith. All of the groups were assembled in front of the Bandstand and each probate group tried to outperform all of the other groups in order to please their most Honorable Greeks (Big Sisters) and the Noble Greeks (Big Brothers). Some groups sang identical songs and performed crazy stunts thus causing the grand performers to be more comical than ever.

The neophytes (new sorors and fraters) became members of the various sorities and fraternities on campus DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY, accepted into membership Dorothy L. Brown, Mary Nell Hollis, Imogene Smith, Emily Snye, Geraldine Spaulding, Eunice Yale, Hattie Watson, and Helen Woods; OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY: Willis O. Dormitory Gives Pajama Party

By Lucile Lamar

The residents of Camilla Hubert Hall sponsored a Pajama Party, in the dormitory lobby, April 11th.

One might wonder, "Just what is a Pajama Party?" A pajama party is merely a gathering of young ladies to play games, chat and relax. Refreshments are served so that the evening will be cooled from the hot discussions that may occur. These discussions vary from politics to "how to hook a man." After all is said and done, the evening is truly one that inspires women to appreciate the art of utilizing "Leisure Time."

Staff Personality of the Month

By Richard Coger

This column is designed to give the students an opportunity to know a little of the personal background of staff members who work tirelessly to better the college.

This issue of the Tiger's Roar is citing a personality warm and pleasant in the name of Mrs. Claye H. Watson, director of Wright Hall Dormitory.

Mrs. Watson was educated in the public schools of Raleigh, North Carolina and attended Shaw University. In 1925, Mrs. Watson married the late Mr. Jumas Watson. She has two daughters, Mrs. C. Faskins and Mrs. F. H. Cuthin who is employed by the Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, as a medical social worker.

Mrs. Watson is an ardent sports fan and has toured both Europe and Australia. In her traveling, she attended the Brussels World Fair, Brussels, Belgium.

In the fall of 1960, Mrs. Watson became the director of Wright Hall Dormitory. Last year, she was assistant director of Holmes Hall, dormitory for girls at Clark College, Atlanta, Georgia.

Mrs. Watson's willing attitude to help others beyond the line of duty has inspired the men in Wright Hall to take a cleaner approach to college life.

Again the writer of this column is proud to present this distinguished personality; a world traveler who has varied experiences to the SSC family.
