President's Message

At the beginning of each academic year, three lists of students are sent to my office. A fourth list is implied, the computation of which must be determined on the basis of the other three lists. Usually the first two lists arrive containing the names of students who have been dropped for poor scholarship. The names of those who have been placed on academic probation. A day or two later the list of students who have made the honor roll and the Dean's List reach my office. A study of these lists and the total enrollment enable me to determine the fourth list which contains the names of the students who are making average progress in their studies.

A study of the list of students who are dropped for poor scholarship over a four-year period indicates that a college of considerable size might have been established for failing students. Of course, one would not wish to establish a college for students who found it impossible to do college work. On the other hand, consideration of the enormous waste of the time of the students, the financial outlay by parents, students, and the state, and the subsequent effect on the personalities of the students. No one of the parties connected with the educational process is happy over the number of failures and near-failures in our college. While the college, parents, and state strive to provide conditions and circumstances that make it possible for students to be successful, the major responsibility lies on the student. No one, nor a combination of all three of the other agencies mentioned, has as much to do with the success of the student in college as the student himself. It is the student who educates himself while he is attending college. His position on the four lists which are developed three times a year at the college is primarily that of his own making.

In several instances, the college has indicated its concern by providing entrance readmission orientation programs, and advising it is desirable that students who are unable to do college work enter some other area which would be more suited to their aptitudes, interests, and desires. Someone has estimated that more than half of the students dropped for poor scholarship or placed on probation could, through their own efforts, have done satisfactory work.

The conditions which face the colleges today will emphasize this feature far more than in the past three decades. Standards and quality of college work will be raised each year. Average performance in our colleges today will move up to a new level. This is equally true of those who make the honor roll and the Dean's List. Students have been willing to accept in non-classroom activities the reality of living and learning. Those who are too tight for football, too short for basketball, too slow for track, unable to carry a tune for the chorus, unable to participate in dancing, and many other collegiate activities not waste time attending the practices. In classroom matters, however, too many have been content to be around or in the procession.

If students have not discovered before they arrive at college their inability to do college work, they should determine that factor during the first quarter and voluntarily withdraw. Those who plan to remain in college and to complete the program which they have undertaken, should plan to do it in an acceptable manner. The sooner students come to this personal understanding, the happier will be their lot and that of the cooperating agencies.

Open Letter to the Savannah State College Family

Dear Family:

I feel that the matter of getting out a student publication on time should be called to your attention.

If your memory is serving you correctly, you will recall that only two previous issues of the Tiger's Roar have been published thus far in this school year. What? You say why not? A very good question indeed.

The Tiger's Roar is published, "supposedly," by the student body of Savannah State College; however, only a very few, in fact very, very few students have been cooperating with the staff in meeting its deadlines.

This publication is the official organ of the S.S.C. student body, the expression of students' opinions, and should reflect the caliber of students attending this institution.

Behind the Scenes

By Sherman L. Roberson

If you have ever dined Adams 3-7723, then you have received a warm, "Good Morning (or good afternoon, or good evening, or good night) Savannah State College." Haven't you often wondered about the identities of the young ladies greeting you in such musical tones?

Strictly Jazz

By Robert Bess

As we look back over the past decade, a decade of controversy and survival of the fittest, we find that in the music world struggle for survival has also existed. The two elements of music affected by this struggle were Rock and Roll and Progressive Jazz. This struggle entailed more than could be easily seen by the average bystander; it was an effort on the part of the teen-ager to create something in the line of music that he could feel was his own, promoted by commercial exploitation. On the other hand, progressive jazz was and still remains an inspired music indicative of a more mature American culture.

In the first few years of the decade, rock and roll gained momentum, and young kneeshing long haired stars were born overnight, and recording companies did a thriving business and thought they had a piping in the line of music that courtesy of the teen-age record buyer. Even at that early stage, it should have been obvious that anything as musically impoverished as rock and roll without artificial stimulus. Once the truth was realized, the pendulum began to swing in the other direction.

This truth was first introduced by Mitch Miller in his speech to a disc jockey convention in Kansas City in 1958. Mitch pointed out that to program music exclusively for the teen-age market was commercial suicide. After all, aside from chewing gum and similar oddments, what products would the teen-agers buy even if they listened to the commercials? Today, we find an impressive number of network affiliates and independents outlawing rock and roll, or limiting it severely.

With the rock and roll scene now on the downgrade, everyone is rushing over to the music with feeling, a music that "says something" in a language not audible to the human ear, but a communication that penetrates the soul. The trend is "STRICTLY JAZZ."

For all of you old jazz lovers, non-progressive whites and rock and rollers who are gradually learning to appreciate smoother and more provocative listening, stop by some of the spots around town and "lend an ear" to some of your home towners in the making. Appearing at one of the most popular night spots in the city, a group under the leadership of the talented Claude Roberts is keeping it "swinging." Claude is a drummer from the "old school." The other members of the group are Teddy Allen, a young man with a smooth, trombone, and does a unique job with arrangements; Bobby Greene, also sax man with that "Farker tone"; John Scott, bass; and John McMillan on piano.

Also, as a tip from Bob, watch for the appearance of a new group of "old pros" using the name "R.C.F." This group consists of the exceptional Ted Pollens on piano, Robert Vaughn on drums; and the sensational Lauray Roberts on sax. They usually use a variety of feats with the vocal chords. A fine combination of talents which spells "STRICTLY JAZZ."

My Kind of Democracy

By Leford Tobias, Jr.

A decade has ended and history now turns the page on the 1960's. It is a long page, packed with spectacular, terrifying and heartening developments. It records new concepts swiftly brought to reality, great changes, new concepts of the future, and new contrasts to the past. It is characterized by two words, shadow and light.

THE SHADOW. A hydrogen bomb incinerated an island in 1953. A Russian rocket capable of carrying such a bomb actually hit the moon in 1959. Rocket-armed submarines prowled unbelievable distances without surfacing.

THE LIGHT. Medical science swept forward in giant strides with the Salk vaccine, new drugs for mental illness, isotopes and other weapons in the battle against cancer. Nations, although political enemies in some instances, pooled efforts in the greatest study of the physical earth ever conducted. The centuries old dream of a united Europe came close to reality. Europeans formed the Iron and Steel Community in 1952. Eurasian in 1955, and the common market patterns of 1959. Apparently reversing the policies of his predecessors, Nikita Khrushchev said in 1959, "Let us disarm and compete in peaceful co-existence."

Six months after the dawn of the decade, the cold war turned hot. Before dawn on June 25, 1950, six North Korean infantry divisions, armed and trained by the Russians, attacked South Korea. They poured across the never to be forgotten 38th Parallel.

Immediately, President Truman ordered American land, sea and air forces into action. Americans were now dying again on foreign battlefields for reasons not clearly understood at that time.

By Thanksgiving, the war was stalling. The North Koreans were shattering American soldiers, standing on the banks of the Yalu River, looked at Red China on the opposite bank.

So the fires began as the Age of Atomicity.

The great climax came in a pleasant city in Arkansas. Little Rock today is more than a name; it is a milestone in history.

The most violent chapter in the story began September 4, 1957, when Gov. Orval Faubus ordered units of the Arkansas National Guard to surround Central High, September 24. Little Rock to prevent Negro students from entering.

After court orders, the Faubus-Eisenhower conference, and mob riots, federal troops entered Little Rock, September 24.

A cult of bearded "beatniks" arose, wearing dark apparel and sun glasses, writing odd ball poems, and indulging in easy life. These people developed a language of their own. They did nothing, but had a heck of a good time doing it.

The second half was quite a duel between the two teams, the Clafin team caught up and passed the Tigers 62-61, with the aid of a foul by Willie Tate. Jackson and Walton were dueling against Murphy and Springer with 35 seconds left in the game. The score was 70 all, with Clafin in the lead of 70-69. With only 15 seconds left to play, then Redell Walton stole a pass and was fouled before he could shoot. He missed the free throw but got the free throw and hit an eight foot field with only two seconds left to play.

Clafin Loses To Tigers, 112-91

The Savannah State College Tigers won their fifteenth game tonight by beating Clafin College of Orangeburg, S. C., 112-91.

The leading scorers for the Tigers were Ira Jackson with 21 and Redell Walton with 18. The leading scorer for Clafin was Jimmy Springer with 29. The half time score was 43-41, SSC.

The Tigers started to have been down by their second unit, which has been used mostly for defensive purposes. Leading this attack were Robert Robbins, and Raymond Harper as they had 6 points each. The second unit played for 11 minutes before SSC put its third unit in. When the second unit left the game, the score was 30-12. Leading the third unit were Lawrence Williams and Williams Day with 4 point each. The half time score was 43-41. Clafin scored in the second half. As Goodwin had 9 points and Jackson had 15. At this time James attempted to get 3 free throws with 8 field goals. With 5 minutes left in the game, the Tigers led 88-78. With two minutes left in the game James Dixon had 5 points and SSC had 21. Jimmy Springer, a 5-6 guard, Clafin, were dueling as both of them hit 8 straight field goals. Only one minute left in the game, Walton busted the clock with a four feet field goal, to give the Tigers that century mark.

SSC Makes Clafin 19th Victim

The Savannah State College Tigers won their 19th game tonight over South Carolina A. T. Trade 106-81. The leading scorer for the Tigers were Redell Walton 27, Willie Tate 25 and Ira Jackson 26. For the visitors William DeBarr with 27 and James Ladson 21. The half time score was 52-40, Scats.

The Savannah State College started the first half with the defensive unit which includes Raymond Harper, Lawrence Williams, Robert Robbins, James Davis, and Alphonso Smith. Starting for the Scats were J. Ladson, C. Johnson, R. Epps, W. DeBarr and L. Jones. Both teams started off "hot" with SSC scoring first but the Scats took an early lead of 7-6. With the game 8 minutes old the Tigers dropped behind 22-15. Leading the Scats attack Ladson and DeBarr. At this time SSC put in their second unit which included William Day, Elijah McGraw, Williams Epps, Leon Wright and Joe Sweet. With 8 minutes left in the first half SSC put in their third unit. With 6 minutes left in the first half the Tigers put in the "Fabulous Sophomore Five" which includes Ira Jackson, Stephen Kelly, Willie Tate, James Dixon, and Redell Walton. The scores were 35-20. The first half ended 52-40 with the Scats leading. Scats leading scorers for the game were William DeBarr 18 and Charles Johnson 12. For the Tigers were Walton 10, and Kelly 6.

Starting the second half for the Scats the same unit, for the Tigers the "Sophomore Five" came out "hot" as they cut the lead down 59-55 with the half 5 minutes old. With 11 minutes left in the game the Tigers led the score with 67 points, with Walton and Jackson leading the attack. The Tigers at this time were "red hot" as they were making 60 per cent of their shots. With 7 minutes left in the game the Tigers led 87-75. At this time it was hard for the Scats to handle the Tigers because the Tigers were controlling the rebounds, and making most of their shots. Jackson shot 20 points this half, Walton 12, and Tate 21. The game ended 106-81.

Alpha Win First Game

The Alpha finally came up with a combination, to put them in the winning column in intramural basketball. After losing every game for one year and one this season under the name of Alpha, they came up with this cent of their Alpha Sphinx Club = Apex. So, since the Alpha and the little brothers combined their team they have come up with one win and one loss. Wanting over the "Tramps" 23-13 and losing to the "Rack-ers" 52-20.

Leading the "Apes" attack is a little brother, John Owens, who has been giving his opponents trouble with his jump shot and rebounding. Helping Owens is Royce Stephens, Benjamin Harshbarger, Sherman Rowerson, B. Carswell and Alphonso Smith, James Austin and Samuel Williams.

Savannah State Triumphs Over Clafin, 71-64, and Morris, 81-57

The Savannah State College Tiger's won their tenth game, defeating Clafin College of Orangeburg, South Carolina, 71-64. This was the third conference win for the Tigers. And from the way they look on the road they will win the SSC championship again. The leading scorers for the Tiger's were Redell Walton 18, and Ira Jackson 15. For Clafin, Sammon Levine 24, and Novel Chambers 15. The half-time score was 30-26, S.S.C.

The Tigers got off to a very slow start, as they only scored 30 points the first half. Redell Walton sparked the S.S.C. offensive attack as James Davis led the defense. The game was tied up six times during this period but Jackson of S.S.C. scored two quick baskets, set up by James Dixon to give the Tiger's a four point lead at half time.

During the second half Clafin didn't use the "light" because the Tiger's were "red hot" with the "Sophomore Five" on the war path. The final score 71-64, S.S.C.

On the following night the Tigers played Morris College of Sumter, South Carolina, as they rolled over Morris 81-57. This was the Tiger's eleventh win and their fourth conference win. The Tiger's were very happy about this game, because this was the first time in years that the Tiger's have been able to whip Morris in their home court. Morris gave S.S.C. their only defeat in conference play last season. The leading scorers for the Tiger's were Redell Walton 18, Ira Jackson 14, and Elijah McGraw with 10. For Morris, William McCoy 21 and John 14. The half time score was 29-28, S.S.C.

This half score was the lowest of the season for the team. The score was tied five times and Morris had the lead three times, but never by more than four points. Elijah McGraw paced the first half scoring for the Tiger's with eight points and ten rebounds. Alphonso McLean, James Davis, Raymond Harper and Robin Robert played a splendid game on defense.

Starting the second half were the "Fabulous Sophomore Five". James Dixon, Steve Kelly, Willie Tate, Ira Jackson and Redell Walton. These Tiger's were so "hot" during the first 12 minutes of the second half, that Coach Wright took them out and put in his second team and also the third unit in to finish the game. In the history of Morris College, a visiting team had never been able to beat them by more than eight points on their home court.

Southeastern Athletic Conference

The 46th Annual Conference Meeting was held at Morris College, Sumpter, S. C., on November 28, 1959. All member schools were present and the conference business was conducted and carried forth in an efficient manner by President O'Neal, Jr. Highlights of the meeting were the announcing of the final official football standings of the various conference meetings and the naming of the 1959 champions. These results were as follows:

School	W	L	T	PF	PA	Rating
Albany	3	1	0	750	85	21.00
Clafin	3	1	0	750	85	21.00
Savannah State	2	1	1	625	80	20.25
Morris	1	2	1	500	60	15.00
Paine	1	2	0	375	40	10.00

Albany State College had the championship football team, defeating Clafin in their annual game. Florida N.I.M. did not field a team this season. All ratings are based on the Dickerson Rating System.

Tigers Lose To Benedict

By Jolly Stephens, Jr.

The Savannah State College Tigers lost their second game out of 22 to Benedict College of Columbia, South Carolina, 66-88. This game was full of excitement, questionable officiating and coaching on the part of the home team. The scores at half time were 42-33 Benedict. The leading scorers for Benedict were Johnson 29 and Simmons 21. For SSC Redell Walton 39 and Ira Jackson 18.

The first half started with Benedict getting the breaks. It scored six times and led Clafin the ball down the court without running or double dribbling. The game was once tied at 5 but fouling on the part of Ira Jackson gave the Clafin College 3 3/4 center who is one of the leading scorers on the team gave Benedict free throws in which they capitalized on. With the game six minutes old Clafin had three fouls, which is his game average for the season. With Jackson having three fouls he was replaced by Robert Robbins. The game was on in the two teams was on. During this half the scores were tied at 21-23-27-29 and 31. With Walton leading Savannah and Simmons leading Clafin. Clafin led the game this tight, Savannah State College fouling sent Benedict out front to end the second half with Benedict leading 42-33.

Clafin was leading when Benedict College was high scorer for this half with 21. Johnson and Simmons for Benedict with 12 and 13. During this first half, Savannah found out that Clafin was not too much air in the ball, and that caused confusion. But the officials finally decided to take some of the air out. This game was a very close one, when Benedict Coach asked Savannah State College Coach to take his team off the court, but Coach Ted Wright of Savannah State College and the Benedict Coach was ready to go into physical violence. It was all stopped by the officials before it went any further.

Starting the second half for Savannah was the same team that started the first half, the "Sophomore Five". Benedict started their first give. The game was a roller coaster. Clafin and the Savannah State College Tigers came in with 3 points of Benedict, when Larry Pet of Benedict picked a fight with Savannah State College Captain James Dixon, a 5' 5" guard who had 4 assists with the second half 8 minutes old. The official gave both of them out of the game.

Clafin was leading 42-33 when 71-66 Benedict. Robbins replaced Dixon as the Tiger's were still gaining on Benedict. With 9 minutes left in the half, Clafin was fouled again. The referee official called two consecutive fouls on him to put him out of the game. The score at this time was 76-73, SSC. With the game fouling out Clafin, Clafin led 76-73, SSC. With an argument came up at the official table. Savannah State College representative had five fouls for Sims and one for Stephens. This is the official book had four so Sims remained in the game. At this time Tate fouled out of the game for the Tiger's. With 9 minutes left in the game Benedict got hot and tied SSC 82-82. At this time, Tate fouled out of the game which left only one minute to play. Clafin was in the game, Walton and Stephen Kelly. And then again, just like in the first half everything SSC did was wrong, as Benedict called a foul on Stephens. The Tiger's had more running, walking, dribbling violation in this one game called o' nthem than they have had in the last ten games together.

Mrs. Luetta C. Upshur:

Faculty Personality of Month

By Geraldine Lindsey
It has been said that teaching is a function of two variables—the subject taught and the pupil. In this imperfect world I would like to add a third variable—the teacher. It is very important that the impression made by the teacher's personality should be such as to emphasize the importance and dignity of the subject and its value as part of our cultural heritage.

Among our faculty we have such a teacher, who not only stands out because of her excellent work, but also because of her dynamic personality. The teacher whom I referred to is Mrs. Luetta Upshur.

Mrs. Upshur is an assistant professor in the Department of Languages and Literature and a Language Arts recipient of first place award for a short story from the College Language Association. A graduate of Fort Valley State College, 1948, she received the M.A. degree from Atlanta University, 1949. She also studied at the Breadloaf School of English (Middlebury College), Breadloaf, Vermont, in the summer of 1955.

She is a member of the Butler Memorial Presbyterian Church, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, advisor for dramatics and co-author of the choral drama

A Peek at Staffman Bertrand

By "Gem"
All of the students are acquainted with the diminutive but dynamic Emanuel A. Bertrand. Mr. Bertrand is a native of St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. It is on the Islands where he received his elementary and high school education. At Hampton Institute, he received his B.S. degree.

Mr. Bertrand came to Savannah in July 1947. He served as chief accountant at Savannah State College until he was promoted to his present position—Comptroller.

Mr. Bertrand is married to the former Miss Ernestine Faucette. They have four sons with an age range from two to eleven—Edward, Andre, Elienne, and Edison.

Our forceful comptroller is a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., The Frank Collen Boys Club Board of Directors, and St. Benedict Catholic Church. Formerly he served on the West Broad Street YMCA Board of Directors and as chairman of the World Student Service Committee.

The controversy over the banning of Norman Thomas from speaking on the Lehigh University campus settled into an uneasy calm last month.

The only public comment came from Harvard history professor, Dr. Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. who said during an interview with local reporters, "All this must tickle Thomas. I imagine no one has thought of him as a menace for many a year. Not in 1960 anyhow. Probably, he's enjoying the whole thing."

Reports from the Lehigh campus indicate that there may be a reconsideration this spring on the University regulation granting the president power to approve or disapprove all guest speakers.

The Spotlight

By Yvonne McGlockton

Ruby Sims is a typical young lady who stands out among other women. Slow, soft-spoken, and quite, she never seems to let the rush and excitement of the day affect her in any manner. Ruby has a warm and friendly personality that reflects among her associates.

Pettit and neat, she is a native of Macon, Georgia, and a graduate of Bulward Hudson High School of the same city.

Ruby is a junior majoring in mathematics and minoring in chemistry. She is very competent in her school work, and participates in several extra-curricular activities. Among her activities are the Camilla Hubert Hall Dormitory Council (Vice President), the S.N.E.A., and the Standard Board.

Recently she was among the fourteen students from this institution elected to "Who's Who Among Students in College and University." Her hobbies are sewing, reading, playing tennis and cooking.

The writer is proud to add you, Ruby Sims, a promising young lady, to this column. May you always remember that the Spotlight is on you.

Rho Beta News

In the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., Rho Beta Chapter joined with thousands of Zetas all over the world. The observance was especially unique because all five of the founders are still alive.

The campus chapter had a Founders' Day dinner on Friday, January 15. On Saturday the sorors met with the city graduate chapter for a special ceremony. On Sunday afternoon the sorors were hostesses to the women of the campus at a Coffee Hour in Camilla Hubert Hall.

Plans are now being laid for the annual Girl-of-the-Year Contest. Please support the girl you prefer.

The sorors are especially proud of the following sorors: Soror Rachel Thomas, who made the Dean's List for the fall quarter; Archonon Juanita Moon, soloist with the Savannah State College Choral Society when it sang with the Savannah Symphony on January 22, and Soror Ella W. Fisher who is featured in the current Crescent Magazine of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity as the "Zeta Star" of the Savannah Sigmas.

The chief warrant officer was particularly proud of the cleanliness of the ship's engine room. The enlisted men under him lacked his enthusiasm; they had to do the work.

One day a "white hat" had just finished putting what seemed to be the 99th coat of high-gloss enamel on the reduction gear housing. He was sitting admiring his handiwork when the chief appeared and demanded to know why he was loafing.

"I'm waiting for the paint to dry," the sailor said, "so I can start scrubbing it."

If this publication is not published on time, then no one wants reasons or rationale why the paper did not meet its deadline: the only thing desired is someone to be the recipient of the blame for the said infraction.

I sincerely feel that the S.S.C. family should consider that the editorial staff are full-time students carrying a full load. There are no superhumans working on this staff; therefore, in order to function properly, it requires the cooperation of the entire college at large.

I am hereby soliciting the cooperation of the Savannah State College Family in order that the Tiger's Roar staff may meet its deadlines and then everyone will be happy.

I thank you in advance for your profound consideration.

Your Servant,

FASHIONS AMONG WOMEN

Color Highlights Day, Evening Silhouettes

Tunics, bloused tops, dolman sleeves, hobble skirts—whatever the silhouette, the common denominator in today's fashions is color.

Girls, if you are thinking of adding a few clothes to your wardrobe or having trouble deciding on matching the colors of the ones which you already have—then why not take a few suggestions? Try a teal blue costume and beads with orange hat, or maybe a green checked wool suit with green velvet overblouse. If you have a red suit, why not outline it in black fur or wool? For an even more vivid effect, try a green cocktail dress with massive jet jewelry.

If you are in need of a coat or ballgown—then consider an electric blue wool coat; and an ballgown and purple velvet, jewel banded.

Charcoal gray looks new for evening wear. The trend is toward apricot, crystal embroidered for evening, glistening in mohair for day.

A royal velvet costume with matching hat and shoes would be very stunning on any young lady.

Yes, girls, if you are considering colors, then think of purple tones—royal purple, violet, mauve, cerise, or maybe the browns—putty beige, taupe and tobacco molasses.

This column is proud to announce a contest to rife "best dressed campus co-ed" to be sponsored by the Tiger's Roar staff. Complete details will be announced in the very near future.

"This is Jimmie Lang"
"Variety is the spice of life," says Jimmie Lang, disc jockey at radio station WSOX, 1230 on the dial. Jimmie is the famous "Baron of Bounce."

Better known to all record fans as "The Gater," Jimmie plays music to soothe the musical taste of the Rock 'n Rollers, the Beatles, the Jazz fanatics and any other conceivable classification.

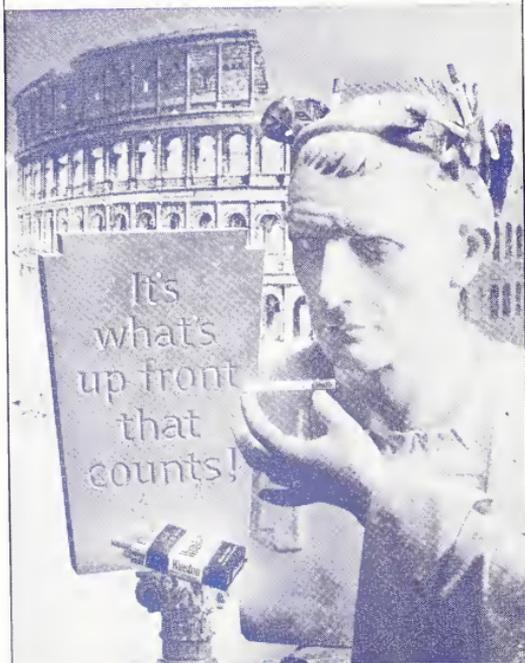

The disc jockey attended Alfred E. Beach High School and served one year in the United States Army. Before entering into the disc pockey business, he had no formal training. He was radio announcer and disc jockey at radio station WDKR for two and one-half years, at WSGA for two years and has been working for the Fisher Broadcasting Company, WSOX, since August of 1959.

The Tiger's Roar salutes Jimmie "The Gater" Lang of "The Baron of Bounce Show."

All filter cigarettes are divided into two parts, and...

"Weni, widi, Winston!" Thus did Caesar (a notoriously poor speller) hail the discovery of Filter-Blend—light, mild tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking.

He knew that a pure white filter alone is not enough. To be a complete filter cigarette, it must have Filter-Blend up front. And only Winston's got it!

That's why Caesar would never accept another brand even when it was offered gratis. In fact, history tells us he'd glower at the extended pack and sneer, "Et tu, Brute?" In a stirring oration to his legions, Caesar put it this way: "For the Numeral 1 filter cigarette—for the best-tasting filter cigarette—for the noblest filter cigarette of all—smoke Winston!"

"Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!"

P.S. to bachelors. If you're lucky enough to find a gal who'll keep you in Winstons, Caesar!
