Alpha Kappa Mu Chapter Organized National Honor Society Set Up

"When it rains, it pours," or "Birds of a feather flock together" are proverbial which may be aptly applied to this story.

Fast on the heels of the announcement that Savannah State College had been listed as approved by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools came the establishment of the first national honor society on the campus. The Alpha Nu chapter of the Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society was set up on March 13, 1952.

Candidates for Alpha Kappa Mu were presented in assembly on March 14 in Meadland Auditorium. Mr. Emanuel A. Bertrand, business manager and graduate member of Alpha Kappa Mu, gave the history and purpose of this organization. He cited as one of the aims the promotion of high scholarship among college students. He also repeated the working motto of Alpha Kappa Mu: "Work as though you were to live forever; live as though you were going to die tonight."

Dr. William K. Payne, who is also a graduate member of Alpha Kappa Mu, introduced the speaker for the occasion. Mr. T. E. McKinney, dean of Johnson C. Smith University, and director of Region 1 of AKM, was guest speaker. Dean McKinney gave the interesting story of the development of honor societies on Negro college campuses and the effect of these societies.

Delores Green, senior, sang "Cano Mya Ben," by Giordaniella. Professor Hillary Hatchett, acting chairman of the department of fine arts, played "Cock Dance" by Callinos.

Dr. Elton K. Williams, director of the division of arts and sciences and advisor to Alpha Nu, presented the candidates for Alpha Kappa Mu. The program concluded with the singing of the alma mater.

The nineteen candidates invited into the chapter group are Ruby Childers Black, Anne G. Busby, Adolphus D. Carter, Margaret T. Chubbins, Jeanie B. Colley, Mabel P. Ferguson, Jewell Gombis, Harry C. Gorman, Anne G. Harris, Alfred Jackson, Donald B. Jackson, Raymond Knight, Eddie T. Lindsay, George E. Lovett, Dorothy D. Malvey, Charles Meulier, Rebecka Holmes, Stratton, Leon D. Wilson, and Richard M. Williams.

A cumulative average of 23 and an average of sixty semester hours were listed as minimum requirements for membership.

An initiation will be held during P. M. Spring quarter during which those persons who qualify may become members.

The organization of the chapter is due largely to the foresight, interest and energetic efforts of Dr. E. K. Williams, who explains Alpha Kappa Mu is interested in developing scholarship and is open to all Savannah State students who maintain the required average. Prizes is also due Mr. Ben Ingersoll and his efficient staff who checked the scholastic qualifications of each candidate.

So the rains of sound scholarship and worthy deeds still pour at SSC. The noble circle of scholars, drawn close by their love of the true and the beautiful, will always, we trust, remain unbroken.

Religious Week Stresses World Peace

Savannah State College, through the YMCA and the YWCA, sponsored the annual Religious Week observance March 24. "Christianity, the Basis for World Peace and Unity" was the theme of the observance this year.

Dr. John Tilley, pastor of the New Metropolitan Baptist Church, Baltimore, served as chief resource person for the week. A seminar on the "Place of the Home and Family in World Peace and Unity" was conducted in Meadlin Hall, Room 9, on March 3. Francis Baker, director, Family Services of Savannah, Inc., served as co-ordinator. Baker led a panel discussion on "The Contribution of Youth to World Peace." Dr. Tilley and James Colley, senior, served as co-ordinators of a discussion on "The Contributions that Student Organizations Can Make to Religious Life on the College Campus."

Dr. Tilley delivered the regular Sunday morning worship hour verses on March 2. On Monday, he acted as co-ordinator of a seminar, "Religion and World Peace." A seminar on "Partnership in Marriage, its Contribution to World Peace," was coordinated by Mr. Baker, March 2.

Arthur Gignallist, director of the evening college, Armstrong College, served as co-ordinator of a seminar on "Peace and Unity Through Education," on March 3. Dr. Tilley led a seminar on "Christianity Through Education," at the library, and spoke at supper-class assembly at 12:00.

Mr. Gignallist served as leader on a seminar on "New Concepts of Thinking Needed for World Peace," at 1:30 on March 4. Dr. Tilley and William J. Holloway, dean of men, headed a discussion on "Contributions of Faculty Sponsors to Religious Life on the College Campus," at the Community House, March 4.

Seminars on various other phases of the theme were conducted throughout the observance. An added attraction this year was the presentation of two religious plays, written and directed by students in the class in Religion 201, Old Testament Literature. Entitled "The Story of Esau and Jacob" and "Sarah and Abraham," the plays were directed by Aaron Cruse Busby, senior English major, and Lillie B. Johnson, senior English major.

"Uniting for Strength" was the theme of the two-day meet. Delegates came from Palmetto College, Augusta; Fort Valley State College, Fort Valley; Alfred E. Beach High School, Savannah; Woodville High School, Savannah; Ballard-Hudson High School, Macon; and Blackwell High School, Elberton.

State officers elected were Carolyn Gladson, president, Savannah State; Benjager Butler, vice-president, Blackwell High School; Mae Carol Webb, secretary, Fort Valley State; Annie P. Thomas, assistant secretary, Palmetto College; Artek Woodley, Jr., treasurer, Fort Valley State; Haris Hicks, chaplain, Fort Valley State; Albertha James, historian, Savannah State; Jettie Adams, parliamentarian, Beach High School; John H. Campbell, assistant professor of education, Savannah State College, was elected advisor.

The next meeting of the State Conference will be held at Palmetto College, March 13-14.

Night Courses in Business Offered

In seeking to increase its services, facilities, and program to the public, Savannah State College is offering business courses in the night school program during the Spring quarter.

Some of the courses offered are accounting, business law, business organization and management, retailing, type writing and shorthand for beginners and advanced students.

Persons taking these courses may work toward a degree in business or improve their personal skill for immediate practical use in earning a better income, thus making a better contribution to the firm or organization with which they are affiliated.

Savannah State Accredited by SACSS

At the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in St. Petersburg, Florida, in December, 1951, the Executive Committee of the Southern Association voted to grant approval to Savannah State College.

In June, 1949, Savannah State was given a "B" rating by the Southern Association; however, the Association now honors grants "A" or "B" ratings. An institution is either "approved" or "disapproved."

Honorary Degree Is Awarded to President Payne

President W. K. Payne was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters during the Alton University Founders' Day convocation, Friday, February 29, 1952, at Columbia, South Carolina.

Dr. Payne was awarded the degree "for distinguished service in the field of higher education."

Dr. Payne was named acting president of Savannah State on September 1, 1949. On March 1, 1950, he was named fifth president of SSC by Chancellor Harman S. Caldwell.

Prior to his appointment as president he served as examiner and professor of education and dean of instruction at Savannah State. Before coming to Savannah State, Dr. Payne served as instructor and principal at Alabama State Teachers College High School; instructor at Alcorn A&M College; dean of Donnan Junior College, which he organized.

The SSC Faculty is proud of the well-deserved recognition of service that has come to its head. Dr. Payne's intense interest in the growth and development of students marks him as a member of the vanguard of service and education.

Medical Schools Recommend May Admission Test

Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1953 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, it was announced today by Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges. These tests, consisting of applications by a number of leading medical colleges throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 10, 1952, or on Monday, November 4, 1952, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1953 take the May test.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society, and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is recommended. All questions are of the objective type.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisors or directly from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 25 and October 20, respectively, for the May and November 3 administrations.

A Scene from the Eternal Drama

Laughter, joys, heartaches, happiness, sorrows, trials! These are the things that formulate the character of our think when we commune with the events of our yesterdays on the Savannah State College campus. These are the things that form the foundation of our participation in God's wonderful creation—the eternal drama. These are the things that symbolize our shrine as it is being built from day to day. These are the things that have earned places in our albums of prized mementos. Let this be your choice album while the incidents within shall be forever prized.

FORWARD TO THE 1952 TIGER!

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

During the past three months, we have been enjoying, along with a number of other SSC students, what we believe to be "A Golden Opportunity." We have been sharing what is known as the Student-Teacher experience. The practice of allowing prospective teachers act as cadets in a real classroom situation for a reasonable length of time is probably one of the most stimulating innovations in the teacher-training program.

We certainly don't feel so keenly the value or importance of this experience at first. We begin with some misgivings and anxiety, and viewed this as another bothersome requirement subsequent to graduation.

What changed our opinion? While talking to a few experienced teachers we learned that the story of this activity was quite different a few years ago, at least so far as SSC is concerned. The story of its blooming development is another saga in the progressive history of our College.

As told to the writer by an alumnus, one attended college for the customary four years. During one quarter for one class period, the caddy teacher spent the time observing a selected group of pupils. For only one day of the entire period, each student spent a day in complete charge of the class. There were no seminars, orientation periods, or field trips such as we have today.

Needless to say, we were shocked at such a revelation and began to evaluate seriously the program as we know it. Here we found in a procedure more of us take for granted, "A Golden Opportunity." We have a chance to find our weaknesses before they find us and leave us labelled as "incompetents." We are spared the brutal lesson of the "school of hard knocks" and the college of "trial and error."

The Student-Teacher program is "A Golden Opportunity," in which we learn much to enrich our educational program. During this period, opportunities are presented in a real situation and in a natural setting so that we may perform duties and exhibit skills that are prerequisites to success as teachers. Every day is filled with new and revealing experiences. There is never a dull moment, for our lives are full and creative. So are the young minds we serve.

The critic teachers are interested in our personal growth and development as well as in our professional accomplishments. They strive, even beyond professional duty, to provide worthwhile experiences. For this great service they deserve high commendation.

The teaching profession is among man's greatest services to man and it is heartening to know that Savannah State College, in step with leading institutions of higher learning in the nation, is providing a teacher-training program which is outstanding.

Dr. Calvi L. Kiah, chairman of the department of education, and Miss Donella J. Graham, coordinator of student-teaching on the elementary school level, and their staffs, deserve high praise for their efforts in the advance and progress of this important phase of teacher education.

If greater opportunities are provided in the area of education and teacher-training, we believe Savannah State will be among the first with the finest.

The Exchange Editor Speaks

The significance of special days emphasized in the President's Message in the March issue of the Southern University Digest, President F. C. Clark wrote: "Every great enterprise has one great day in its historical register." He cited July 4th in the United States; Charter Day at Howard University; and Founder's Day at Southern University. President Clark stated: "In these as in all others, these special days are sacred because in them is symbolized the vision, hard ships, sacrifices and ultimate triumphs which have taken the institution in question from a valley of dreams to a peak of realities."

The Lincoln Clarion carried in the January 11 issue an article announcing an award for recognition of material life we are mines and miners. Our in general publications which contribute to better racial relations in this country.

John Chadwick, makeup editor of The Virginia Statesman, publication of Virginia State College, Petersburg.

"Then so be it, students, that is mine as mines to be excavated for the riches that are latent there. The quality of what we use, and how we use it in our mining will be great determiners of the quality of our finished products. No place on earth can give us a better foundation for the development of our mining techniques than this school of mining at which we are now students. The gold which we may later yield to the world is in the ore which we are now learning to refine. Let us, then, learn our art well, and apply it so well that our gold will show our glory for years to come."

What Is Our Destiny?

The question, "What is our destiny?" has been asked over and over again, by people of all groups. Even though many of us never think of it, we must face this question in one way or another.

If we are to survive in this atomic age, there is a role for each of us to play in our society. It is our responsibility to utilize our capabilities to their fullest extent.

No individual thinks seriously at all times, but our present-day conditions require serious thought. We must remember today is but a prelude to tomorrow. Therefore, it is better for us to begin now to prepare ourselves for the tasks which lie ahead of us.

The Bible speaks of man's sowing what he sows. To that, I should like to add that some of us reap infernal seeds, especially when we spend our time doing nothing. Thus, we reap nothing. There are too many people in the world who want nothing; they just tag along. Could this be true of some of us here at Savannah State? Often following discourses given by speakers, we hear remarks concerning our purpose at this institution. This leads me to wonder whether it is a common thought that abilities and talents are developed and not picked up by osmosis.

An institution is only as great as its constituents. This needs no confirmation other than to say that men make institutions and we have great potentialities with us. We ourselves must face and recognize our destiny.

Good Grooming Aids Cadet Teacher

By Carolyn M. Manigo

To be a member's best self throughout the student-teaching experience is an asset not to be worn momentarily undervalued. There is, of course, no one way to be one's self. Rather, there are some important factors which, when put together, give you important clues not only to the making of a successful beginning in the early days of your student-teaching, but also your continuing success as a teacher.

The following suggestion concerning your responsibility to yourself are offered to aid you in getting off to a good start. Your management of time, and your personal appearance play important roles in achieving success in student teaching.

A prospective cadet teacher might use the following as a checklist for grooming:

Is my clothing clean and well pressed?

Is my clothing practical for the kinds of activities in which I must engage on the job?

Is my clothing attractively harmonious in its color combination?

Is my clothing suitable for my personality—without conspicuous by attracting attention to itself?

Do I wear comfortable, practical shoes that are regularly cleaned and polished and in good repair?

Are all my accessories fresh, neat, and appropriate to school wear?

Is my jewelry in such good taste that does not draw undue attention to itself?

We are wishing every student success in his practice teaching. We say, "Go into your work with the best that you have—the real the best will come back to you."

Creative Writing Edition Fulfills Dream

This is the story behind a writing of progress, The Creative Writing Edition of The Tiger's Roar, released last month, marked more than a new high in journalistic achievement, it was in addition, its literary effort, in the words of its preface, "symbolized and crystallized an ideal which the 'Dean Dean' had earlier created and advocated—the development of creative expression among the students of Savannah State."

During the past year, several worthwhile contributions of a nature reached the Student Publication Office, but this kind of material was not too well suited to newspaper editions. Sending a great need of an outlet that could encourage and utilize the student's creative talents. Miss Lucetta B. Colvin, advisor to student publication, began exploring the possibility of doing a magazine edition expressly for creative writing. However, this idea remained a dream until the advent of such a publication last month.

Sparked by the sincere desire for the cultivation of creativity in expression and thinking here at SSC, and the kind encouragement of the SAC representative and others, we staff produced its first Creative Writing Edition.

Miss Colvin deserves high commendation for her untiring efforts and uncommon interest in the fulfillment of a great and a dream envisioned by Dean Lester, to whom the edition is dedicated.

It is hoped that the Creative Writing Edition will become an annual publication growing in scope and quality as SSC's student body grows in appreciation for self-expression. It is believed that it will become "an inspiring tribute to Dean Lester's high ideals and splendid example." It is a project born of a few staff members and realized by the concerted efforts of many minds and influences.

We are especially appreciative to those aiding this endeavor and we are sincerely grateful to the SAC representative and others who have stepped in to the student publication's claim to recognition as a leading college journal.

There is nothing like working. If you like doing good deeds. Everyday you can feel certain. That you have given to use in need.

Tigers Win Two Straight From SC State

By Archie M. Robinson
With a record of four straight losses hanging over their head, the SSC cagers ended their losing streak by defeating Coach Victor Kerr's South Carolina State basketers twice in two consecutive games.

Determination was evident in the first of the games, played December 20, in Wilcox Gymnasium, when Charles McDonalds dropped in three foul shots. That was the spark that lit the fire. From that point on, the Tigers continued to lengthen their lead. At the end of the first quarter, the Tigers held a nine point lead.

The score at half time was 13-10, and at the end of the third quarter was 30-20, in favor of the Tigers. In the final quarter, the Tigers stretched their lead to 14 points, but due to the sharp shooting of John McClain, the SC Bulldogs' lucky 6-foot center, the lead was narrowed down to 13 points. Final score, 51-38.

The second game, played in the Alford E. Beach High School Gymnasium, concluded the two-game winning for the Tigers.

Joseph Turner, SSC captain, started the lead off by dropping in a basket from the free throw line within the first two minutes of the game.

Throughout the first quarter, it was a battle, with the lead changing hands five times. In the last minute of the first quarter, Macco Taylor, SSC guard, dropped in one to put the Tigers out in front, 15-14.

Moving steadily ahead, the Tigers lengthened their lead to 11 points at halftime. The third quarter ended with a score of 44-34, with SSC out in front.

In the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs proved that their spirit could be just as loud as that of a Tiger, and began to bite at the Tiger's lead. John McClain racked up 11 points to narrow SSC's lead to 7 points before the clock ran out.

High-point man for the Bulldogs was John McClain with 14 points in the first game. Thomas Shute poured in 13 in the second game.

For the Tigers, Charles McDaniel came out on top in both games, with a total of 25 for both. C. P. Harris came second in the first game, while Macco Taylor was runner-up in the second.

Mr. Sims: "I hear your son is on Douglas' football team."
What position does he play?"
Mrs. Kirby: "I think he is the drawback."
Clyde: "Dearst, I must marry you."
Fai McNeil: "Have you seen Father and Mother?"
Clyde: "Often, darling, but I love you just the same."

Ten Cagers End Varsity Career

With the close of the 1951-52 basketball season, ten players hang up their uniforms for the last time in their varsity careers. Graduation will write finish to the varsity careers of the following seniors:

- Macco Taylor, H. Coiter, Chicago.
- Charles McDonalds, Forward, Chicago.
- Curtis P. Harris, Guard, Columbus.
- Joseph Turner, Guard, New Orleans.
- Alvin Paige, Guard, Jacksonville.
- Philip C. Williams, Guard, New Orleans.
- Margie Mercer, Guard, Collins.
- Bessie Williams, Guard, Marietta.
- Anne Ruth Howard, Forward, Dallas.

Robert "Nancy Hank" Slocum, although kept out of first season play because of an appendectomy, is also to be congratulated for his most efficient basketball performance. Slocum, All-American grid star, participated in basketball for the first time during his college career, this season.

The above seniors have fought valiantly for the orange and blue. It is hoped that their cage performances will be inspirations for teams to come.

Basketball In Review

In their trek toward the capture of the SEAC Championship crown, the Tigers and Tigresses had to encounter many formidable cage foes before the final victory.

The keen competition, that enhanced their achievements may be gleaned from the Scoreboard on this page. A brief review of several thrilling games follows.

The SSC Tigers showed the Allen University quintet, 52-48, January 24. The Tigresses led to the Allen five to the tune of 52-31. In trying to stem the Allen tide, Martha Rawls and Eleanor Wright dropped in 18 points, while Louise Rawls and Dorothy Alfred poured in 22 and 11 points, respectively, for the winners.

Al Jackson's 14 points and C. P. Harris' 12 stood out for the SSC boys in their defeat of Allen. Kenneth Jackson's 26 points and Robert Hadden's 10 points paced the losers.

The Tiger's 47-45 victory over the Florida Normal cagers came after a Florida player missed two foul shots after the regulation time had expired. The Florida Normal girls lost to the Tigresses in the opener, 47-34.

C. P. Harris led the Tigers to victory by buckering 10 points during the cage clash with Faine, January 28. Robert "Nancy Hank" Slocum, Macco Taylor, and Laurence Shepard were not far behind with 7 points each.

The SSC Tigers split a double-header with the Allen Yellow Jackets, January 18. The Yellow Jackets took the first half, with a score of 43-37. The Tigers took the night-cup, 61-53.

The girls' game was "all Allen" until the last quarter, when Martha Rawls, high-scoring star for the Tigresses, went to work, dropping baskets from the floor. Allen won the starting honors, with L. Diskins tossing in 13 points. For the losers, Martha Rawls dropped in 18, while Neta Styler came up with 7.

State's cagers were paced by Robert "Nancy Hank" Slocum. The game was a nip and tuck battle until the fourth, when State came into her own, cracking the Yellow Jacket's zone defense.

Then Slocum broke loose, and scored two straight buckets, giving State a four-point lead. Allen seer recovered from that blow, as the game moved ahead for the Tigers. Allen came within two points of tying the record when Laurence "Red" Shepard

William D. Woods Returns to SSC

Former Army Sergeant William D. Woods, Jr., remarks that the pleasant reception accorded him by the SSC faculty upon his return to his alma mater is heartwarming. He adds that such a atmosphere is encouraging and inspiring to him.

The elder son of the Reverend and Mrs. W. D. Woods, Sr. of Midway, Georgia, Woods was with the respect and friendship of his colleagues. Before his leave of absence to serve in the armed forces, Woods maintained a B average. Mostlily, he admits that he shall endeavor to keep his high scholarship record.

Before entering Savannah State, Woods attended Lincoln University, Pennsylvania. He did his high school work at Gillespie-Selton Institute, of Corrie, Georgia.

While in the armed forces, Woods worked in personnel services. The training State completed six months of advanced administration study at Fort Lee, Virginia. He spent the larger part of his service in the army at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Having been interrupted twice in his school career to enter the army (1948), Woods is the wholly business major student that he hopes to finish his college work by June, 1953.

A member of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and the College Choir, William D. Woods possesses an engaging personality and shows evidence of achieving the goals which he has set for himself.

SSC Sponsors Interscholastic Press Institute

The Tiger's Roar staff and the Office of Public Relations are sponsoring the Interscholastic Press Institute, April 3-5. In 1951, the Department of Languages and Literature and the staff sponsored the English Workshop in Jacksonville. The primary purpose of this Workshop was to provide concentrated practical experience in journalism for members of the student publication staff.

This year, in an effort to extend the services of such a program, The Tiger's Roar and the Office of Public Relations inaugurate the first in a series of annual Press Institutes for the Negro high schools of Georgia. It is to be that such a school will help the staffs of Georgia high school newspapers help themselves to a larger state of knowledge about the important medium of communication that is journalism. Co-operative exchange of ideas, helpful guidance from experts in the fields of newswriting and public relations, and practical working out of mutual problems in the area of student publications are the main features of the Institute.

The Institute is not limited to those students who desire to pursue journalism as a vocation, or who desire to do so as a hobby, or who desire to do so as an extra-class activity; it has as its overall aim the development of intelligent consumers of this medium of mass communication. It is important that citizens be able to read critically and thoughtfully so that this means of communication may always be a torch of freedom, of accuracy, and of integrity.

Outstanding journalists, editors, publishers, engravers, and advertising men are expected to be on hand to act as consultants to the Institute.

Polio Pledge If Polio Comes to My Community

I PLEDGE
Let my children continue to play and be with their usual companions. They have already been exposed to whatever polio virus may be in that group, and they may have developed immunity (protection) against it.

Teach my children to scrub hands before putting food in their mouths. Polio virus may be carried into the body through the mouth.

See that my children never use dirty baby's towels, wash cloths or dirty drinking glasses, dishes and tableware.

Polio virus can be carried from these things to other people.

Follow my doctor's advice about nose and throat operations, inoculations, or teeth extractions during the polio season.

Be ever watchful for signs of polio: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, tenderness and stiffness of the neck and back.

Call my doctor at once, and in the meantime, put to bed and away from others, any member of my family showing such symptoms.

I WILL NOT

Allow my children to mingle with strangers, especially in crowds, or go into home—outside their own circle. There are three different viruses that cause polio. My children's group may be immune to one of these. Strangers may carry another polio virus to which they are not immune.

Let my children be over-fatigued or chilled, as chilled bodies are less able to fight off polio.

Take my children away from our community without good cause. Polio time is the time to stay at home and keep with everyday company.

IF POLIO STRIKES MY HOME

I PLEDGE
Have confidence in my doctor, know the earlier the care, the better my child's chances for complete recovery. I know that my child has a better than even chance to recover without paralysis.

Call my local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis immediately for information or help. The telephone book or my health department will tell me how to reach the chapter.

Remember that whatever financial help my family needs for polio care will be given through the chapter. This is made possible by the gifts of the American people to the March of Dimes each January.

Johnny: "Gosh, I need five bucks and I don't know where to get 'em."
Daddy: "I'm glad that I. I was afraid you might get it from me."

College, Tallahassee, also addressed the student body and the public at the regular vesper services, Sunday, March 30.

B. Bertrand, business manager, Franklin Carr, president of business, William J. Holloway, dean of men, Theodore Wright, director of athletics, and John Martin football coach and member of the department if health and physical education.

There Is Nothing Like Teaching

By Christine Cheryl Wright
There is nothing more amusing
Than to watch dear children grow.
There is nothing so encouraging
And you want to teach them more.
There is nothing in the world like teaching.

There is nothing quite so tedious,
You keep tugging all the day,
Yet at evening on retiring
You can still find time to say,
"There is nothing in the world like teaching."

True, there is nothing quite like teaching.
It may be the job for you.
For you'll get more satisfaction
Than from any work you do.
"Cause—there's nothing in the world like teaching.

"Do you know who was the first engineer?"
"No, who?"
"Adam. He furnished spare parts for the loud-speaker."
