

THE BULLETIN

THE ALUMNI ISSUE

Anne and John Lawton, '38, "First Lady" and President of the Georgia Teachers and Education Association.

SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE

SAVANNAH

GEORGIA

About This Issue

The College has the distinction this year of having a son moved up to the presidency of the Georgia Teachers and Education Association and a daughter being selected as "Georgia Teacher of the Year." These two positions are the two highest in their respective categories and it is indeed unique for any College to have both a son and daughter to hold these positions concurrently.

It is also a distinction to have many of our graduates in the various counties to be selected as "Teacher of the Year" by their local school organizations.

Do you wonder about commencements of the past years? As a special treat to you, we are running a picture of the Class of 1900 and the complete Commencement Program. This incidentally was the first co-ed class and only one member survives today. This person is Mrs. Florance Fields Law who is the mother of Leonard D. Law, our National President. She was given special recognition and honors at the Alumni Banquet, June 4, 1960. We know you will want to congratulate Mrs. Law, so you may send your congratulatory messages to her at 521 East Henry Street, Savannah, Georgia.

Have you ever imagined what a beautiful picture three National Queens make when the camera catches them all at once? Wait until you see Miss Louise Milton, Miss Francine Howard and Mrs. Sadie D. Steele in the beautiful shot that Bob Mobley caught at the Georgia Teachers and Education Association Convention in Savannah.

The Maceo Hornes had the distinction of receiving their Master degrees from Butler University together at the same Commencement, "1959."

We were able to add another Doctorate to our growing list when Carlton Moss received his Ed.D. from the University of Oklahoma.

Do you remember the children of Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Payne? Most of us remember them as "Little Rosalyn" and William Kenneth when they used to run around the campus. Recently, Rosalyn returned home for a few days with her husband and two children. As a very special treat to you, on this inside cover, we are running two pictures of this wonderful "homecoming" so you can see how much "Little Rosalyn" has accomplished since you last saw her.

As you go through this issue, you will find many other surprises.

President and Mrs. W. K. Payne were visited recently by their daughter, Dr. Rosalyn Payne Epps, son-in-law, Dr. Charles H. Epps, Jr., and their grandsons, Charles H. Epps, III, and Kenneth Carter Epps. Dr. Rosalyn Payne Epps is now serving on the Pediatrics Staff of Freedman Hospital and is a member of the Howard University Medical College Faculty. Dr. Charles H. Epps, Jr., is specializing in Orthopedic Surgery at the District of Columbia Hospital. Please observe the proud expressions on the faces of Dr. and Mrs. Payne.

MEMOIRS OF CLASS OF 1900

THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED

of the

GEORGIA STATE INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE

Requests the honor of your presence at their

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

June 4th and 5th

COLLEGE HALL

CLASS ROLL

Ethel Wiona Bisard
 Florence Alethia Fields
 Samuel Arthur Grant
 James W. Haigler
 Emanuel Williamson Houston
 Etta Maud McIntosh
 Edward Anderson Overstreet
 Mamie Logan Whitmire

CLASS OFFICERS

President..... Emanuel W. Houston
 Vice President..... Florence A. Fields
 Secretary..... Samuel A. Grant
 Treasurer..... Etta M. McIntosh

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Tuesday, June 5th, 11:00 A.M., 1900

Motto: Diligentia Non Astutia

Music—Materville March	College Band
Invocation
Chorus—Estudiantiana	College Choir
Oration—"The Purpose of Modern Education"	Emanuel W. Houston, Savannah, Ga.
Essay—An Unknown Heroine	Florence A. Fields, Savannah, Ga.
Piano Duet—Charge of the Uhlans	Mamie V. Edwards, Etta McIntosh
Essay—"Music"	Etta M. McIntosh
Music	College Orchestra
Commencement Address	Rt. Rev. W. J. Gaines, D.D.
Chorus—Spring Time	College Choir
Addresses by Gov. A. D. Candler, Prof. Booker T. Washington, and others
Music—El Capitan	College Band
Presentation of Diplomas
Benediction

President and Mrs. W. K. Payne greet three "60's" at the door as the "President's Reception for Seniors" is about to start. The "60's" are (left to right) Willie B. Lester of Jefferson, Lillian F. Philson of Warner Robbins, and James Deen of Alma. Does this scene bring back memories?

Reverend Edgar P. Quarterman, a son of the College, dynamically drives home his point as he delivers the 83rd Baccalaureate Sermon. Reverend Quarterman received his degree from Savannah State in 1944.

ALVERTIA POLITE
Savannah, average—2.527—graduated
Magna Cum Laude

JAMES DEEN
Alma, average—2.444—graduated
Cum Laude

ROSALYN SCURDY
Savannah, average—2.389—graduated
Cum Laude