

President Payne Receives Bouquet For Flower Week

President William K. Payne displayed a beautiful bouquet of flowers during the appreciation assembly program on Thursday, October 30, which was sent to him by Delchi Girls of Savannah, Georgia. The flowers were sent to the College in recognition of his display of the College spirit in connection with National Flower Week. The bouquet consisted of yellow chrysanthemums with a spray of green fern and autumn leaves and was beautifully arranged in a white basket. The floral arrangement was admired and appreciated by the entire student and faculty audience.

PRESIDENT W. K. PAYNE

Who Is a Good Student?

Frequently someone raises a question about teachers. Very often the question is, "Is Mr. Higgins or Miss Lottos a good teacher?" It is difficult to answer this question in terms that will mean the same thing to both of the parties in the conversation. This same question is equally difficult when it is posed concerning students.

In the minds of many people raising such a question about students, the individual finds usually one general concept. This concept generally includes the number of A's and B's made by the student. Beyond that point, there is little to indicate what the student is like. There is certainly a need to broaden this concept of the good student. When one considers the large number of successful men and women who have completed college without a record which shows predominantly A's and B's, one finds it necessary to alter the good student concept. The grades A and B are important, but they do not serve as a complete index to the general nature of the student. In fact, such grades are relative to a number of factors such as the instructor who teaches the course, the scholarship standards of the institution in which a student is enrolled, the marking system of the institution, and the quality of student effort. Certainly, all of these factors are important and should be given full consideration when answering this question about any student.

Over and beyond the foregoing factors, the concept of a good student should include such characteristics as the following: (1) initiative, (2) ability to solve one's own problems, (3) developing emotional maturity, (4) and an increasing awareness of the common happenings and issues of the present world.

The student who never makes a contribution except when it is required of him lacks an important factor needed in present-day living. The world needs students who will be able to react to changing needs, to discuss and do it. It is overlaid with individuals who recognize inadequacy, but offer

Demi-Tosse Players Appear At College

The Demi-Tosse Players, the most unique dramatic group ever to be organized at college level, were presented in Savannah State College's Modern Auditorium on Friday evening, November 2, 1951.

This highly versatile group thrilled the College audience with its interpretation of scenes from "Taming of the Shrew" by Shakespeare; "Happiness—My Goal" by Norman Holland; "Cathedral Peak" by John B. Robinson.

Charles Avery directs the group with Helene Thomas as producer. Professor H. R. Hatcher is chairman of the College Cultural Committee and Professor Robert Long is co-chairman of this committee which sponsored the Demi-Tosse Players at Savannah State College.

Campus Digest

President William K. Payne greeted the student body in an assembly program, Tuesday, September 25, 1951. Speaking from the solid gold Giltan Cup, the president made several important points. 1. That the college students constitute the college citizenship. 2. That this being a select community means that we have select citizens. "One way of showing good citizenship is to regard the other fellow," said the Prescy. Another is "To develop thinking on a community level. When we think of things that are good and fine and things that will help improve citizenship."

Having heard this wonderful address by the President, we can see that as college students are going to show good citizenship here on the campus.

Dean William J. Holloway spoke to us on October 9, on the subject of "Raising Standards." College people are select people and should exhibit fair play at all times. They should know how to lose as well as to win," the Dean declared. He gave us three important ways in which we can raise our standards: 1. Good Character. 2. Social Behavior. 3. Professional Preparation.

Reverend Levi Moore, pastor of Beth Eden Baptist Church in Savannah made special appeal during the Sunday morning service on October 14.

Friday, October 12, the fire department of Savannah staged a demonstration of modern firefighting on the campus. The demonstration followed an "Open Fire" drill in the McLeod Auditorium in Fire Prevention on October 11.

Audio-Visual Aids Week was held during the week October 20, and featured speakers on their chapel program were Mrs. Lorena Harris and John Levy.

Gamma Upsilon Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha presented a program of "Words and Music" in chapel Thursday, October 26.

Your Women's Council is in the process of being organized. Your Student Council is functioning. Take your problems to them. Mr. Eddie Lester is president.

There is much to be done on the campus. Won't you take a part in making your school what you want it to be?

The most popular song on your campus should be your College Hymn. Sing it at all times.

Bloomington, Ill. (I.P.)—A change in admission policy for admitting new students at Illinois Wesleyan University has been inaugurated this year. Under the new plan specific high school courses will not be required for admission. That is, no prescribed courses and credit work in the various fields will be dropped. However, adequate proficiency in the use of English and general competence for college work will be required.

The applicant's competence will now be judged on high school marks, ability to read, write, and speak, and on the results of tests which should show two or more years of work in at least one field in which the grades are substantially better than average. In addition, recommendations by high school teachers and others will be required. In addition, recommendations by high school teachers and others will be required. Also, when use is deemed advisable, performance on the aptitude tests will be required. The applicant's competence will now be judged on high school marks, ability to read, write, and speak, and on the results of tests which should show two or more years of work in at least one field in which the grades are substantially better than average. In addition, recommendations by high school teachers and others will be required. In addition, recommendations by high school teachers and others will be required.

The test results will be used to assist in a wise decision about entering the university, help determine recipients of financial aid, and assist in decisions concerning their program of study. The tests will be given on the campus at frequent intervals and occasionally will be administered by the admissions office in the student's home community.

High school students will be now advised to include in their program a broad background of study that will provide a useful basis for continuation of their general education here.

We Congratulate The Newly-weds

Many sincere congratulations to the newly-weds who recently married couples of our college family.

Among the teachers are Mr. and Mrs. Loretta Brown (Miss Vera Dowdell); Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harmon (Miss Thelma Brown); Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher (Miss Ella White); Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers (Miss Alberta Webster); and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Butler (Miss Nella F. Harris).

Among the students, our congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson (Dorothy Robinson); Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bickel (Maude Eidefeld); Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Moore (Jacqueline Nelson).

DR. CALVIN L. KIAH

The Teaching Profession Comes Of Age In Georgia

By Dr. Calvin L. Kiah,
Head, Department of Education

To say the year 1951 is a historic year in the teaching profession in our state calls immediately to the mind of anyone at all familiar with events as they have unfolded, the Minimum Foundation Program.

It is not the purpose of this short piece to describe the provisions of M.F.P. as that will be attempted at some time in the future.

It is deemed necessary, however, for purpose of background, to call to mind the more prominent features of the plan which are generally known to all. (1) Establishment of a minimum salary scale which compares favorably with that of other states in our area. (2) Appropriation of a sum of money to be used to finance improved school physical facilities.

The purport of this discussion is to emphasize the important issues, implications and progress growing out of this new program.

First of all, prior to the new order, state teacher certification requirements, though high, could not be adhered to, as persons possessing such qualifications could not be attracted at the salary and other conditions offered. The result has been that large numbers of individuals have had to be admitted into the profession who qualifications were and are far below the acceptability standard.

The upshot of all this is that gross inefficiency or at the most a low grade of mediocrity has been a dominant characteristic of our system.

This sort of psychological atmosphere prevailing and surrounding teaching in our state has meant a minimum self-interest and upon all cases teaching the profession. Here at the college, it becomes apparent in the attitude of students toward preparation for teaching. Classified a profession, teaching offers the prestige and high social esteem accorded the other professions. Though this is true, however, there is a considerable tendency for persons to be attracted to teaching only when it becomes evident that further study required for entrance into the other professions is not feasible or possible.

A familiar statement of apprehension is "I've come to study teaching because if I can't do any better I'll teach. So, in case I do have to teach I better take some education." We have here in the department have labeled this sort of person an "in case teacher."

The low standards which major financial provision has forced upon the system have made of the profession a precarious and contemptible occupation; a profession, yes, but one to be preferred only after all others have been rendered unobtainable.

Achievement of M.F.P., marks the starting point of a whole new approach to the teaching profession in Georgia, M.F.P., providing additional financial support for education in all areas, can begin finally to demand that all aspects of the program meet acceptable standards.

Foremost among these demands, as is already apparent, is first, that persons now employed who expect to be retained in the system must meet acceptable standards of qualification. Next, any persons seeking admission to the profession must meet the standards prior to being considered for employment. In short, the days of the licensee for instruction in specific areas are numbered.

In this connection, the college, with state certification authorities cooperating has spent considerable time and effort in the development of definite curricula looking toward preparing teachers for instruction in specific areas. In such a system, it is conceived, "an in case teacher" will have a difficult time "imply taking some education" and appearing adequately qualified for the profession.

It is the design of the college that the individual who qualifies for graduation in any of the several teacher education curricula shall have done so by conscious, deliberate choice and will have made his own selection at a specified point in his college career, pursuing it as designed. An "in case" to qualify, having passed the point of decision must retrace his step, select his own preparation and spend an amount of extra time qualifying equivalent to that he has initiated.

State certification under the new plan will be automatic upon completion of one of the teaching curricula.

It is also true that in the days prior to M.F.P. low standards of achievement in the field of education have been scholastic and professional standards. In short, employing agencies and administrators have tolerated incompetence and inefficiency as concomitants of poor preparation and the compensation was commensurate.

With in-service work and availability of persons with desirable professional preparation—said persons also being eligible for compensation which approaches a level of respectability comparable to that of a mature and efficient businessman, shiftness and slowness standards of performance will cease to be tolerated.

In summary, M.F.P. is the unmistakable expression of Georgia's determination to obtain a mature and efficient school system. Adoption of this act breathes life and vitality into the profession and does much to provide the atmosphere which will enable it to become a dignified and status of respectable occupations. The profession had definitely come of age. Those who would continue in it must acquire the attitudes of maturity commensurate with such a calling.

Quattlebaum Re-elected

"Congratulations," Mr. Quattlebaum, for you have been re-elected as president of your year. You are quite an asset to the group. You have grown, your self to be a wonderful leader. Through out your high school career, you have retained the presidency above others. You have served faithfully and willingly. You have made your year a honor year. Keep up the good work.

During your high school days, you received several awards, such as citizenship, journalism, administrative and dramatic. Here at Southern State, you have been an inspiration to many—a loyal, punctual and willing leader. Your presence here has meant much. You are proud to have you, Mr. Quattlebaum, as president of the senior class.

May I leave with you, as you continue through life, a verse taken from Longfellow's "Psalm of Life":

"Lives of great men all remind us, We can make our lives better, And so ending, turn behind us, Footsteps on the sands of time."

Faces, 20's—(L-R)—Baylor University is offering for young women students this fall what is believed to be the nation's first college course in "human relations." President W. B. White announced here that the program is planned to "present factors which will contribute to the balanced life of the college young woman." Attention will be given to areas of health, manners, ethics, and equal friendship, and personality development.

Lindsey and Knight Named Students of the Month

Eddie T. Lindsey, scholarly senior, was recognition as Student of the Month because of his unusual academic record and for his outstanding contributions in extra-class activities.

The ambitious native of Columbus, Georgia, is at present Editor of the 1952 Yearbook, president of the Debut Club and president of Delta Eta chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity. His winning personality and excellent record have won him the admiration of his fellow students and the College faculty.

A senior English major, Lindsey was an honor graduate of Spawton High School, Columbus, and has maintained an almost perfect listing on the coveted Dean's list. He was the recipient of the Press Club Award and is a member of six distinguished and consistent participation in College activities.

His hobbies include dancing and reading. Lindsey believes that a well-rounded education is one of the most fruitful living. Perhaps the greatest achievement of Lindsey's college career was his assuming of the presidency of the Student Council, which is an excellent South School tradition. In his ability and integrity.

Leader was at one time a Junior Deacon of the First African Baptist Church of Columbus. He also served as an assistant South School trustee.

The amiable high school valedictorian possesses most of the qualities of a great man who will write many glowing words of progress and humanistic progress on the pages of history. Scholarship, dignity, faith, integrity—these words help to portray one of SSC's most colorful and best loved leaders. Surely, Eddie T. Lindsey is an outstanding example of an American College Student.

Students should be well-rounded individuals through formal and informal training. Before considering any profession, Book learners are only twenty-five per cent of the time, your ability to apply what you know constitutes the other seventy-five percent. It is this year that Raymond Knight who is "Student of the Month" for October. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivae Knight of 705 W. Wallburg Street, Savannah, Knight is a native of Sumner, Ga., a member of State College and a second year class president. He is one of the College's most promising young men, having proved himself prominent in scholarship and student leadership ability.

An accounting major with an ambition to become, in his own words, a Certified Public Accountant (C.P.A.), while attending Book, he received his first scholarship in the state of Florida and later attended the former Beach-Cayler High School after honoring to Savannah at an early age. While attending Beach, he received honorable mention for a citizenship award; served as president of the Student Council and held numerous other executive positions in student organizations.

With a knack for card games and constructive thinking, Knight says he came to Savannah State to gain an adequate education. Proof of his desire came when he was listed on the Honor Roll during his Freshman year. He became president of his class during his second year, Chairman of the Student Loan Association, business manager of the Savannah State TIGER, college yearbook publication, and affiliate of numerous student and College activities.

Gravely called and Raymond Knight succeeded by joining the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity as a College sophomore.

Having exhibited unusual executive abilities, devotion to his school and having fostered good student-public relations during his sophomore year, Knight was re-elected president of the junior class and business manager of the Tiger. He also joined the Tiger's staff. Serving in the latter capacity he has organized the most active business staff the student publication has ever known. He also is a member of the Collegiate Councilors.

In the meantime his excellent record earned to the point that the name of Raymond Knight is a feature of the "Dean's List."

Membership by faith, Knight claims, is essential to the S. Phily A.M.E. Church. Rev. J. S. Bryant, pastor, of Savannah.

Carrying out his belief in well-roundedness, the "Student of the Month" has a hobby of golfing, ping-pong, and is a sports enthusiast.

Professor J. Randolph Fisher, chairman of the department of Language and Literature, chose Knight as a member of the student recruitment team which appeared at Alfred E. Beach High School last May.

Raymond Knight differs under the guidance of Professor Robert Long, chairman of the department of Business, and his companion staff.

The Tiger's Roar selects Knight for serving as "Student of the Month" nomination, co-sponsored by the Savannah State Student Council, and the newspaper.

SSC Freshman Named National NFA Head

Carroll V. Cooper of 1206 Lee Street, Savannah, was elected president of the National Association of the New Freshmen of America at the national meeting held in Atlanta on September 30—October 4, at the Bulker Street YMCA. The sixteen-year-old businessman and SSC freshman has been a member of the NFA for six years, and has served as vice president of his local chapter at Woodville High School.

A Woodville High School graduate, Cooper was valedictorian of the class of 1945. This promising young man entered SSC this fall.

As national head of the youth organization, Cooper will conduct meetings and attend State Association meetings of the NFA in various states. In addition, C. Cooper for leadership school for March, 1952, he will go to Washington, D.C., for leadership school for three consecutive days.

Junior Class Elects Officers

The Junior class of 1951-52 welcomed the new and old students back to school.

The following officers were elected: Raymond Knight, president; John Wesley, vice president; Gloria Grimes, secretary; Glendon Bradford, assistant secretary; Melvin Sussner, treasurer; Emory Prichard and Catherine Hunt, reporters.

Lucile Brister and James Gibbons were selected for the junior class representatives to the Student Council.

Marian Lewis of Sylvester, Georgia was elected as "Miss Junior." Dorothy Brooks of Wallerboro, South Carolina, and Helen Turner of Eastman, Georgia were elected as her alternates.

The junior class is making plans for an elaborate Junior-Senior Prom.

Former Student Trends Upper Trail

Tommy Small, popular and versatile former Savannahian has been selected as master of ceremonies of the Mr. Jov-Shaw of 1951-52, held at New York exhibition Monday through Friday.

Small, 25, was selected from an auditioning field of 45 Negro disc jockeys, according to a release from the other KKK Association of New York.

Prior to this accomplishment, Small conducted disc jockey shows on WJTV, Savannah, and W.D.M.E., local radio station. He also served as master of ceremonies at several of Savannah's leading night clubs. Small is a Beach High School graduate and a former student at SSC.

During the summer of 1950, Small served as Editor-in-chief of The Tiger's Roar. He was at one time student consultant to the campus group. The new Editor, J. P. Pitt formerly served as Editor of the Savannah Herald, local weekly.

The versatile artist has a number of other accomplishments in the fields of public relations, journalism, and business. It is with pleasure that we learn of his new promotion. We tender our sincere hopes for his continued success.

Student Loan Assn. Organizes

It is amazing how many students are unaware. The fact that a Student Loan Association operates on the campus. This Association was organized on October 19, 1949, for the purpose of rendering financial aid to the student body; furnishing profitable investment for students; and familiarizing students in the Business Department with the techniques of organizing and operating successful business enterprises.

Until the current year, all funds used for the operation of this organization are secured through the sale of stock to members of the student body. This year the Campus Club has loaned to the Student Loan Association for the purpose of beginning operation however, stock in the organization may still be purchased from the Book Store by students who desire a vice investment.

At the end of each year, all profits made are distributed among the stockholders. In addition, stockholders receive their original investment. For the past two years, the average profit made has been twenty per cent on the original investment.

For the past year, 170 loans averaging $11 each were made by students for various purposes. During the first month of operation this year, over 30 loans have been made by the Association.

Additional information concerning the Student Loan Association may be obtained from members of the Student Loan Committee. They are Arnett Anderson, Kenneth Evans, Guy Wood, Knight, and Mr. Franklin Carr, advisor.

A Student Looks of Religious Life at SSC

By Dorothy M. Bras

Most of the students of Savannah State College will agree that religious services play an important part in molding character and developing a wholesome personality. Even though we are weary of these facts, more of us are not aroused by them.

We as college students have definite goals in view. If we are to achieve these goals, we cannot afford to forget the main part of our education, and that is most toward establishing a firm determination toward achievement. This factor is none other than that of religion.

Religious services are those which should be cherished by every individual. Without them, our lives would be incomplete. If we would be successful in our other endeavors, we must constantly strive to adhere to these religious principles which are essential to a happy life.

Religious services are held weekly on the campus. The students who hold mainly for the students. There are many things which will inevitably help us in everyday life if we faithfully adhere to them. By following these religious services, we will be better qualified to meet the challenges and adventures of this day and age.

Religious services will prove especially helpful in aiding the freshmen to adjust to their studies morally and spiritually. Overpassion will find them of great assistance in helping to point up an area which is too often neglected. Let us as well as early beginning in order that we may look forward to a better tomorrow.

Veteran Fresh Newsmen Join Tiger's Staff

A number of freshman students who served on their respective High School newspaper staffs have joined the college Student Newspaper upon enrolling here.

Those continuing to follow their journalistic enterprises are: James H. Douse, of William James High School, Statesboro, Georgia. He was editor of his high school newspaper, and originator and editor of his school yearbook. He is now humor-litter of the Tiger's Roar.

Miss Roberta Glover, former member of the Alfred E. Beach Branch staff. She joins us as Tiger's Roar typist.

Shirley Lack, of Vidalia, Georgia, former city editor, joins our staff as circulation manager.

Archer Robinson, ex sports editor for the Beacon staff of Alfred E. Beach High School, is now assistant sports editor of the Tiger's Roar.

Clarence J. Lofton, former editor of the Lee Street High School of Black-her, Georgia, joins our staff as art editor.

George Locke, and Lofton in addition, plan to work with the Yearbook Staff. Welcome comrades, and may your work be equally as fruitful here as it was at your respective high schools.

Building Program To Get Underway

In this progressive age, SSC is not standing still. Steadily the physical plant is being equipped, enlarged, and modernized to cope with changing trends.

Presently, Savannah State College, through the keen foresight of its administration, has been appropriated an estimated $200,000 for buildings and improvements of the College.

Architects have submitted their plans for construction and preparations are being made for the actual disbursement of such plans. A $500,000 men's dormitory, to house 210 men, is to be constructed. An appropriation of $200,000 has been made for additions to and improvements of the Gymnasium. A $100,000 additional floor space, showers, baths, locks, and equipment rooms are being planned for the Gymnasium. The remaining amount, approximately $50,000, will be used for a large disposal plant for the campus.

It's really the Monday morning quarterback that needs to be deprogrammed. Many a business man thinks the way to get order out of chaos is to get plenty of orders.

Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep for 20 years—newslayers. He would have been benched.

Utilizing Our Minds

As college men and women and potential leaders of tomorrow, we are too prone to be careless, with little regard for those things which are of educational as well as cultural value to us.

Let us place ourselves in the position of some of our guest speakers who come to us from time to time to share with us some of their varied experiences. No speaker can be any greater than his audience will allow him to be. Colleagues, our cooperation is needed.

Focus in your minds our comment our reactions as far as being intelligent and attentive listeners is concerned. We are not attentive and we lack that degree of control which characterizes and identifies college students. Let us be aware that the first impression, in many instances, is a lasting one and the impression our speakers get of us will not only characterize us now, but also in years to come. Patterns do not change in a day; on the other hand, they usually persist. The strength of a school lies not in the leanness of its buildings, but in the character and intellect of its students.

The writer who remarked that "The speaker starts only when they shine," certainly gives us cause for reflection.

Are You Making Each Minute Count?

The hand of fate is writing each minute as we experience our most critical period in world history, and the quality of your performance now will determine your future destiny. Fate has caused many youth to be inducted into the armed services. Therefore, one of us as individuals, the public, or the group as a unit instead of a gang must realize the importance of making each minute count.

Our minds must turn aside from the frivolity and deprivations of life to high standards and ideals which bring about a more meaningful existence. In short, our being here must have a definite purpose, a purpose based on a desire to acquire training which will help to make our country, our country, and the world a better place in which to live because of our foresight, premeditation and intelligence. Surely, it is to be the educational institutions that one looks for sound leaders.

Let us be mindful of our every action while in college. Can you imagine yourself on the Korean battlefield? Imagine you are on the battlefield, a young and ambitious person, desiring most to be in some American college instead. Having this supposition in mind, are you still satisfied with your scholarship here? Are you sure you are getting the all-around development you need from your present activities—here? Finally, are you making each minute count every day?

Certainly, we ought to take inventory of ourselves and while the term is young, get on the "right track." Standards in all areas of living are rising and we must meet the challenge of new situations. It is not too late to make every minute of all your natural talents and abilities to grasp every opportunity to learn to get a liberal education.

So that the purpose of education to make one able to live the "Good Life" might be fulfilled, let us strive to make each minute count. In doing this, we must be mindful of the wise counsel given in the first assembly for school years 1953-54 by our President in speaking on the subject of "College Citizenship," and again the message of our Dean of Men, William J. Holloway, when he spoke about "Raising Standards." Someone once said that, "He who starts the race late, must run faster than the rest to win the race." We ought to let our every minute count.

Most of all, we have a life before us to live. We must think of economic security and consequently of what we will have to offer in turn for compensation. We are indebted to society, our community and to our families who, in many cases, sacrifice to keep us here. We must think in terms of the many aspects of living before we waste time, money, or energy, and in so doing, you may be discouraged and to procrastinate.

I invite you to try this formula. Count the cost of a college education. Then count the minutes which are passing on each day while you are here and try to make an accomplishment or some progressive step for each of these minutes. This is what we mean by the question, "Are you making the minutes count?" You are actually living a purposeful life that will prepare you for a useful life of service to yourself and others, a position of leadership in shaping a brighter tomorrow? "Time will tell."

A Time For Thanking

Creetings from the personnel of the Tiger's Roar. This is our first edition for the 1951-52 school year, an achievement as the Thanksgiving edition. We have much to be thankful for. In the true spirit of the holiday founded by people who knew what hardship and deprivation meant, may we urge you to pause long enough to count your many blessings. Remember that Thanksgiving has a magnetic effect which draws more things to us in proportion to our appreciation of smaller things.

Certainly we ought to be thankful for our College; its great administration and its administration; for our devotion to the academic beauty of our Campuses, with its moss, oaks, marshlands, and magnolias. Yes, it is Thanksgiving time.

We of the Tiger's Roar staff are thankful for the distinction of being the largest staff in the history of student publications at SSC. We are thankful for our efficient faculty advisor, Miss Lucetta R. Cohen; the Public Relations Department, Mr. Wilton C. Scott, Director, our sponsors; and the Board of Publications, Mr. J. Randolph Fisher, chairman.

We appreciate the work done on the first edition by Miss Anne Beth Howard, managing editor, who has proved an able co-ordinator of our various departments. We give our appreciation to Miss Anne Grace Bussey, copy and exchange editor; Clarence J. Lofton, art editor, who designed our new masthead; Misses Ruby Childers, Aquilla Outlawbone, Robertta Glover, typists; Raymond Knight, business manager; and many others who have contributed to this edition.

We commend Paul L. Howard, at present an elementary school principal, and his staff for their excellent first Summer Session edition. The same commendation is extended to Miss Mary Terrell and Mrs. Gertrude Thomsen and their staff for the well-written second Summer edition.

The Tiger's Roar staff is headed again this year by Horea J. Lofton, English major from Blackshear, Georgia, who anticipates bringing to the reader a greatly improved journal, with the help of one of the paper's finest staffs.

The Exchange Editor Speaks

Hello Readers. Here's your faithful Exchange Editor letting you in on some of the happenings at fellow institutions.

While browsing through The Southern University Digest at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, I discovered the interesting little paper entitled, "Examination Week." It fell in me in momentary numbers.

Exams are hot spicy dreams. And for our teachers, never slumber. And for us, they are not what they seem. Exams are hot, exams are earnest.

So don't let flunking be your goal; Nor homework to retrench.

But put your name on the honor roll. Lives of graduates all remind us.

We can finish up now. And on departing, here behind us, let us get you to the person laster.

Let us then be up and studying. Soon it will be too late.

What must be done January 22-26. Can't be done January 20-22.

The Washington of Bluefield State College in Bluefield West Virginia published an article in one of their recent editions that will hold a great deal of interest among the women of the College. The article is entitled:

"Girls Here: How To Catch Husband." Girls, if you want to catch a husband, don't appear over-anxious to spring the bait. A little more composure on your part will get you to the person laster.

An article in the September American magazine, telling what a cross section of the U. S. think it takes to catch a husband says that about half the unsuccessful girl tries too hard. One comely miss, Alyce Powell a Washington, D. C., (415-18th St. N. W.) recently, expressed her opinion in a highly amusing way. She was showing girl off they have marriage in mind?

Another tip from the girls is their best-looked sisters is don't let your hair, done by you, appear to be too intelligent. Marian Spidel, a slender blue-eyed psychiatric social worker in Portland Oregon 922 South West 17th St., confessed, The American magazine states, that "some of my dates have

Alumni in the News

Editor's Note: (This is our initial effort to include a column about alumni of Savannah State College and news about their present activities. We are interested in getting letters from all former graduates from which we will make up this column. Correspondence should be addressed to The Alumni Editor, Tiger's Roar, Savannah State College, Savannah, Georgia. News included for the December edition should be in this office by December 16, 1951.)

Hello everybody, this is your alumni news reporter bringing you some news about the former students of Savannah State College.

The Savannah Alumni Chapter of Savannah State College selected Mrs. Elders D. Marks, Critic Teacher at Powell Laboratory School, to serve as its homecoming queen. Her attendants were Miss Estelle Wray and Miss Dorothy L. Hays, both of whom are employees of Savannah State College.

The officers of the Savannah State College, General Alumni Association are: Mrs. D. Kennedy, president; Mr. John McCloskey, vice president; Mrs. Jose B. Sevans, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Annie Lee Beaton, financial secretary; Dean T. C. Myers, treasurer.

short ones from me because of my Master's Degree."

There's a big leap in man's thinking between a date and a mate, point out the article, but some girls just won't recognize this fact.

The girls were in general agreement that the greatest asset in winning the interest of a man, especially one with matrimonial intentions, is a sunny disposition and a sense of humor. More important than being good looking, the girls feel, is being neat and clean.

Moreover, advise the girls, always be a good companion in a genuine rather than in a starchy, church-school way.

Pattie Rich, of 1432 Alabaster Avenue, Lakewood, Ohio, offered this thought: "Be your girl. A phony has no chance at all."

Freshmen Give Impressions of SSC

"This college is one of the best colleges in the South. Its faculty is composed of well-trained and dependable teachers, whose major interest is that of raising the best and brightest of their students. The campus is lovely, and so is the atmosphere in general."

—James Murray

"Since the first day of school, I have had a favorable impression of this Savannah State College. The students as well as the faculty, and executive staff, are patient, courteous, and understanding. Everyone has a cooperative spirit, which is what impressed me most. I am certain that my first impression of SSC will be my lasting one."

—Robert L. Glover

"Savannah State College is to me one of the best colleges in the South. It has the finest of teachers. Here at this wonderful college we have the best faculty members and one of the finest presidents any college has. I am proud to be here."

—James Dierforth

"Besides the beautiful campus at Savannah State College, I am impressed with the very efficient instructors who are endeavoring to help us reach ours."

—Evelyn Royal

"Savannah State College impressed me most with its friendly greetings. I feel that this is one of the best colleges in the South. I shall not leave without accomplishing a knowledge of the wonderful things it has to offer in its social, business, educational, and religious activities."

—Frances M. Baker

"I came to Savannah State in September, and I have a good impression of this institution. First of all I have been impressed by the high quality and most qualified and willing instructors to help us in our work. There are also advisors in each field to help us adjust ourselves in various classes. There is a Library for us to consult and prepare our assignments. The College Inn is a nice place for us to sit and eat our lunches. Every effort is being made to make us comfortable in this institution."

—Annie Mae White

"Upon my arrival at Savannah State College, I was impressed first by scenic beauty of the campus. I was also impressed by the manner of the campus, most qualified and willing instructors to help us in our work. There are also advisors in each field to help us adjust ourselves in various classes. There is a Library for us to consult and prepare our assignments. The College Inn is a nice place for us to sit and eat our lunches. Every effort is being made to make us comfortable in this institution."

—Barbara Bennett

"My impression of Savannah State College, after viewing its spacious campus and well-constructed buildings, is one of tranquillity. This state, I have found, is due to the perfect harmony of the outdoors—the faculty and student body. In this institution I have found well-planned curricula based on subject-matter necessary for the well-rounded education of any individual. It is my hope that these conditions will never cease, but will increase."

—Betty J. Surpp

"I had often wondered what it would be like to become a part of this institution. Its beautiful campus, its congenial atmosphere, and its most worthy faculty and staff are all things that I will always be proud to have. I will never part of them and will forever hold them dear to my heart."

—Delores Miller

"There are many things that impress me at Savannah State College. The one thing that impressed me most is the record that SSC has maintained in raising out well-prepared graduates. I am also impressed by the organization and activities that are held at the College; especially, am I impressed by the record of clean sportsmanship maintained by the football team. My hope is that the future of SSC will always be recognized as a growing College."

—Ivan Williams

"I am proud of being a student of Savannah State College and will do all I can for this great school. The reputation and strength of our school rests mainly on the student body of the school. I, along with the other students, have a right to be proud of SSC."

—Elen Glover

NOTES FROM THE GREEKS

Omega Psi Phi

Plans Achievement Week Program

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity in conjunction with Mu Phi (Ipsalodge) chapter is planning its annual National Achievement Week program to be presented in Melbourn Auditorium, Sunday, November 11, at 6:00 p. m. The Savannah State College Alpha Gamma Chapter will follow with a chapel program Thursday, November 15.

The theme for this year's National Achievement Week program is "Securing World Peace by Strengthening Democracy." Bro. E. B. Williams, A. H. Marchesse, A. M. Atlanta University, Ph. D. Columbia University, chairman of the Department of Economics, at Morehouse College, will be the guest speaker for the November 11 Vespers program. After the program, a reception will be held at the Community House for the visiting guest and college family. The tentative program for the Alpha Gamma chapel date is Rev. P. A. Patterson, pastor of the Butler Presbyterian Church, Savannah.

Officers of Alpha Gamma Chapter are: Robert Thwaites, president; Claude Byers, vice president; Talmadge Anderson, keeper of records; Jack Joseph Solomon, keeper of finance; Leonard Stewart, keeper of honor; John Wesley, treasurer; and Leroy P. Wesley, officers of pledges.

Officers of Mu Phi Chapter are: John O. Jefferson, president; Lester Johnson, keeper of records; and Carl B. Jackson, keeper of finance.

Other major affairs planned by Alpha Gamma Chapter of Omega Psi Phi for the academic year 1951-52 are the annual Mardi Gras Ball, February 23, (late tentative) and the traditional Spring Fête, March 23, 1952.

In spite of the inevitable factors such as army and graduation, that have caused a decrease in the membership of Alpha Gamma, they uphold with pre-eminence and diligence the standards of Omega Psi Phi.

Zetas Entertain

Freshmen Women

On October 29, the Rho Beta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority sponsored a Bush Party for Freshmen Women at the College Inn. "Playmate with the Zetas" was the theme of this party which was attended also by the Archon and Pledge Club. The young women had a stimulating time and enjoyed the unusual and interesting games provided for their recreation.

Plans have been made for a very fun-loving and successful year.

The Chapter is very proud of its members, Susan Mary Ford, for being chosen "Miss Savannah State" for the year 1951-1952. It is hoped that she will have a victorious year.

The newly-elected officers for the ensuing year are:

- Acquella Quentrellon, ladies.
- Dorothy Paul, anti-ladies.
- Laura Taylor, proms.
- Hattie Thompson, pinettes.
- Margaret Holland, dean of pledges.
- Mrs. Ella W. Fisher, faculty adviser.

Lawson to Speak

Alpha's Founders Day Program

The brilliant Miss Jenny Hamilton reigned a Honorary Queen for the Rho Eta chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity at Savannah State College. Miss Hamilton is a sophomore majoring in biology at Savannah State. She has also received degrees in industrial education at the University of Georgia. Serving as assistants to the Queen were Miss Minnie Clossers and Miss Lillie Linder. Miss Clossers is a native of Newnan, Georgia, and a cruise majoring in English. Miss Linder hails from Americus, Georgia, and is a sophomore majoring in elementary education.

An Orientation Program has been designed to acquaint freshmen with Greek Letter organizations and their general nature. The program will be sponsored on November 15, in Melbourn Auditorium during a regular freshmen assembly hour.

The Savannah State chapter will observe Founder's Day with a program which will feature Brother Relford V. Lawson, General President of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated. Brother Lawson is a noted teacher and lawyer. The Founder's Day program will be presented on December 2 during the evening vespers. A reception will follow the vespers program.

AKAs Begin Year

Alpha Gamma chapter of the Alpha Gauda Alpha sorority opens a new school term with the sincere desire to help Savannah State College keep her high ideals which have been a beacon to many of us through the years. The annual rush party of the chapter was the opening event of the year. Over one hundred freshmen were entertained in an evening of Hollywood style.

The officers of Gamma Upsilon are: Dorothy Moore, ladies; Melba Fortson, anti-ladies; Jewell Gaudin, treasurer; Jeanie B. Colby, espionette; Margaret Chisholm, treasurer; Jewell Colby, dean of pledges; Margaret B. Wilks, reporter to Free Leaf; and Mrs. Martha Wilson, adviser.

A very different comb composed of members of our college family, many members witnessed a very enjoyable and profitable year.

Our hats are off to the Omegas for their successful entertainment.

'Harvey' To Be Presented In December

Plans are being completed for the presentation of the comedy feature "Harvey" by the New York Guild production of the hilarious Broadway comedy, "Harvey" by Mary Chase will be presented in Melbourn Auditorium, Saturday, the greater 8, at 8:15 p. m. This production will include an all-star Negro cast, headed by Dudley Winson of motion picture, television, stage and radio fame.

Henry I. Scott, virtuoso of the piano and America's first concert humorist, will appear in Melbourn Auditorium on March 12, 1952. Mr. Scott has made a definite appeal to youth through the medium of concert entertainment. Many concert-goers have attended his concerts for the fun and have stayed and enjoyed for the beauty of the music with encouraging results.

Professor Robert C. Long, dean, and chairman of the department of homecoming will be presented in concert something during the latter part of January. He will be accompanied by Professor Hattie Clossers of the fine art department. Also expected to materialize soon are two concerts by SSC's and Johnson C. Smith's choirs. Dates are pending confirmation.

Students, faculty, and staff are admitted to all program attractions. Free presentation of activity tickets or other identification.

Shown above is Mrs. Dudley Wilson, noted star in films, television, stage and radio who will appear at Savannah State College in the "Harvey" production next month. Wilson appeared in the film "Cecilia" and is well remembered as a opera star from this role.

Critics Cheer Harvey

Here is what the New York Times said about Mary Chase's hilarious Broadway smash hit comedy "HARVEY," which is being presented by the New York Drama Guild at Melbourn Auditorium on December 18 (Saturday), 1951, at 8:15 p. m.: "HARVEY" is one of the treats of the fall theater."

John Chapman of the New York Daily News writes: "'HARVEY' is the most beautiful, still, confounding, funny and touching pieces of stage whimsy I ever saw."

On stage, and on the screen, critics, movie and theater goes have loved and laughed at "HARVEY." For young and old, it is a journey into fantasy—said as George Jean Nathan of the New York Journal American said—"an evening of laughter, laughter."

The New York Drama Guild's production of "HARVEY" is just that—a delightful, funny, and intelligent experience.

The critics have done nothing but laud "HARVEY," and it can all be attributed to the New York Daily Mirror's critic who said: "My ribs are still aching. I can't recall that I ever laughed so hard so continuously at any show as I did last night at the opening of 'HARVEY' by the City Center. It was in good company; the audience was in hysterics."

Dr. Thomas H. Johnson, Brookhaven Physicist, Named Director of AEC Research Division

The appointment of Dr. Thomas H. Johnson, Chairman of the Physics Department of the Brookhaven National Laboratory, New York, as Director of the Research Division of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, was announced today by Marion W. Boyer, AEC General Manager.

The position has been vacant since June 18, 1951, when Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer resigned to become Dean of the College of Chemistry, University of California. Dr. Pitzer had been on leave from the University of California since January 1, 1949, to June 18, 1951, while serving as Director of Research.

Dr. Johnson, whose appointment will be effective December 1, 1951, has worked with the Brookhaven National Laboratory since June, 1947. As Director of Research, Dr. Johnson will direct the Commission's research program in the physical sciences and will supervise administration of the isotope production and distribution program.

Dr. Johnson served as chief physicist at the Aberdeen, Maryland, Proving Ground of Research, War Rel. Eff. and in 1946 and 1947 was associate Director of Aberdeen until joining the Brookhaven staff. From 1930 to 1942, Dr. Johnson was assistant director of the Bartol Research Institute and during this period also served as a research associate at the Carnegie Institute of Washington.

In 1947 the President awarded the Presidential Medal for Merit to Dr. Johnson for his work at Aberdeen. Dr. Johnson has been associated with atomic ray research and with his associates at Brookhaven has designed a new high pressure cloud chamber. He has participated in expeditions to Mexico, Panama, and Peru and the associate director of the United States and Canada in connection with cosmic ray research.

Dr. Johnson, who was born in 1899 at Colverton, Michigan, was graduated from Amherst College in 1920 with an A. B. degree. After teaching and studying for several years, he received his Ph.D. from Yale in 1926. Dr. Johnson's wife is the former Mrs. Paul Mallory Brodick of New Haven, Connecticut. Dr. and Mrs. Johnson now reside in Brookhaven Village, N. Y.

New York Times, J. J. (J. J.)—New York University's Washington Square College of Arts and Science has adopted a new general program, designed especially for the freshman and sophomore year, according to an announcement by Dean Norman Clark Pollock.

The new program is the result of a two-year study by a Special Committee on the Educational Program of Washington Square College. It is based, Dean Pollock explained, on the College's belief that a liberal education has as its major objective the development of the student's awareness of the nature of the world and of man's place in it and the equipment of the student to face the problems of his own time and culture with intellectual and emotional maturity.

They, he said, the new general program will include among other courses in the following areas: Men and ideas; Western civilization; social sciences; literary history of Western culture; introduction to fine arts; and music and principles of effective thinking.

Noting the distinctive features of the new program, Dean Pollock said: "Instead of specialized individual courses—courses and by government, there will be three-term integrated courses in social sciences dealing with the relations of man to society and to his fellow men, the relation of groups to each other, the relation of man to the social heritage, and a logical approach to current social problems."

BOB-BING ALONG THE AIRWAVES WITH

BOB: It's wonderful to be here, Bing. This is your first program of the season. I feel great.

BING: No, Bob. This is my third. BOB: Why would you feel great in 7 BING: Well, you wouldn't expect a coach to be on the season off with the scrub team, would you?

BING: Say, Bob, I'm raising out with a new group of stars called "Play with Me." What do you think of that? BOB: I think you're a little big!

BING: Little pop!

BING: I wish you could have been with me when I caught that swindler.

BING: I wouldn't have had to be here. BOB: Why would you have had to be here and join the swindler to death?

BOB: I want to thank you for that big smoked salmon you sent me from Chicago.

BING: Gah, you got the salmon all right!

BOB: Yes, and when I first opened the box I thought it was you! But really, it is one of the best I had ever had with Bing!

BING: Excuse me! What else?

BING: Ah, yes, the end of a smart perfect summer. The vacation is over. BOB: Yes, but without it, my mishaps that summer were a lot less fun. BOB: Well, you wouldn't have had to be here. BOB: Yes, and now I'm here seeing you.

BOB: Well, the kid can't stand on top.

BING: Oh, yes, he can't stand on top.

BOB: Hear Bob out on Sunday nights. See Bob on CBS Wednesday nights. See Bob on NBC-TV Sunday nights. BOB Time!

SELECTIVE SERVICE

The Congress, in the 1951 Amendments to the Universal Military Training and Service Act, declared that adequate provision for national security requires maximum effort in the fields of scientific research and development and the fullest possible utilization of the nation's scientific resources. It authorized the President to provide for the persons whose activity in study is found to be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest.

The criteria for deferment as a student in either a satisfactory score (70) on the Selective Service College Qualification Test or satisfactory rank in a class (upper half of the freshman class, upper two thirds of the sophomore class, upper three fourths of the junior class). Seniors accepted for admission to a graduate school satisfy the criteria if they stand in the upper half of their classes, or make a score of 75 or better on the test. Students already enrolled on the nation's selective service act that go long so they remain in good standing. These criteria are guides and the local boards are not bound to follow them. General Brehm remarked today that when the Selective Service college deferment plan was first announced last spring objection was heard that the plan gave preferred treatment to the comparatively small number of "bright boys" who could afford to go to college. He said he believed that virtually all of the opposition on this ground has been dissipated, since there is now a new type of college student who, though he held a credit survey made by the United States Office of Education which showed that fewer than 25 per cent of the students are not solely dependent upon their parents.

Fraternity Elects

Queen Attendants

Miss Bretha L.illard a native of Atlanta, Georgia and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Lillard, Sr. has been recently elected Queen and Omega Sorority of Alpha Gamma for 51-52.

Miss Lillard is a graduate of Booker T. Washington High School in 1948, a graduate of Beth's Business College, 1951, (both located in Atlanta), and an advanced business student at Savannah State College.

Her attendants are, respectively, Miss Evelyn James, a 1950 graduate at Woodville Senior High School of Savannah where she received third honor. She is now a sophomore majoring in mathematics with a minor in general science at Savannah State College.

Miss Bretha Spalding, a graduate of South Philadelphia High School for Girls. She is now a freshman at Savannah State College majoring in Business Administration with a minor in English.

These ladies were chosen because of their charming personality and social abilities.

The Queen and her attendants will be honored at the National Achievement Week Reception.

Waistlines Gouge

Admissions to Omega's Dance

The Alpha Gamma chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity held an annual year with an air of superb gaiety and elegance. Their initial affair in the form of a smashing waistline dance, was held at the 20th Auditorium, 8:00 p. m., at Wilcox Gymnasium. The Omegas employed a very unique method of securing admission—appointing waitresses at a general price for the evening and the entertainment is a lovely evening and beautiful music afforded.

Requiescat In Pace

MISS JANIE L. LESTER

The sudden passing of Miss Janie L. Lester, dean of women and associate professor of English at Savannah State for twenty-four years, has left a deep wound of sorrow in the hearts of every member of the College family.

Professor Lester died at the John A. Andrew Memorial Hospital, in Tucker, Atlanta, on Friday, August 24, a native of Eastman, Georgia, she received the A. B. degree from Spellman College, and the M.A. degree from the University of Wisconsin. Before coming to Savannah State College, Dean Lester served as English teacher and matron at American Institute, Americus, Georgia for three years; and at Jewel Academy, Athens, Georgia, for two years. She also served in the English department at Forsyth N. and I. College, Forsyth, for one year and at the Athens High School for seven years.

Prior to Dean Lester's death, she was engaged in advanced study at New York University for the summer session. As a member of the English department and dean of women, Miss Lester rendered distinguished service in all phases of student life.

Mrs. Nancy Lee Simmons

Mrs. Nancy Lee Simmons, mother of Mrs. Earline Simmons-Smith, instructor in art at Savannah State, died at her residence, 523 East Henry Street, on October 26.

Funeral services were held on Friday, October 26, at 4 p. m., at the First Congregational Church, of which Mrs. Simmons was a faithful member. Besides Mrs. Smith, she is survived by her husband, Mr. A. H. Simmons, a local candy maker; a daughter, Mrs. Essie Mae Simmons Cahn, New York, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Thompson, Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Mary White, Tampa, Fla.

National Teacher Exams Will Be Held Feb 16, '52

PRINCETON, N. J., October 17. The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, will be given at 200 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, February 16, 1952.

At the monthly testing session a candidate may take the Common Examination, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Nonverbal Reasoning; and one or two of nine Optional Examinations, designed to demonstrate maturity of subject matter to be taught. The college which a candidate is attending, or the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the National Teacher Examinations, and which of the Optional Examinations to select.

Professor Brown Attends Motor Institute

Leroy Brown, Savannah State College, is one of approximately fifty college and high school teachers of auto mechanics who attended summer sessions at General Motors Institute, central educational and training agency for General Motors, Flint, Michigan.

The Auto Mechanics Teacher Training Program was first presented by General Motors in 1933 as the result of requests from teachers for information on passenger car and truck specifications and adjustments.

The program is one of the Institute's activities open to people other than those directly connected with the divisions of General Motors or its distributors and dealers.

During the last year of the program, teachers of auto mechanics and related subjects in vocational counselors from all states of the United States as well as all provinces of Canada have participated.

In order to keep in pace with the new course was accomplished by Mr. Leroy Brown, news editor of The Tiger, motor and hydraulic transmission was purchased.

Additional courses have been added to the training program in the division. A new course in Leather Craft and is open to all students in the institution and college credit is given for same. Mr. Harlan, of this staff, has been placed in charge of this phase of the work.

The institution is serving as host to the American Youth Industrial Educational Association and the Southern Business Conference and the staff of the Division of Trades and Industries is responsible for the execution of the meetings. The date set aside for said conference will be on May 13, 1952.

Several staff members in the division were away during the summer, studying in larger institutions, gaining more information in their line of work and getting new ideas to be used as improvements in the work of the college as well as the division. These members were Mr. Singleton, instructor in Radio Repair, and Mr. Haywood, instructor in "Shoe Repairing."

Many projects have been outlined in the year program for the training of the students and will also add to the services and improvement of the college in a physical way. From time to time will be called to the attention of the public.

Results of the election of officers of the Trades and Industries Association are as follows: Eugene J. Jackson, Jr., president; Leroy Warnock, vice president; Milton Merritt, financial secretary; Nathaniel Edwards, recording secretary; Jennie Powers, treasurer; James Floyd, chaplain; and Mrs. E. E. Lockette and R. B. Singleton, advisors.

Hartford, Conn. (L.P.)—Through cooperation with United Aircraft Research Division, Trinity College has undertaken a new development in college curricula in a course which combines modern mathematics with the use of the IBM punch card computing machinery.

Lectures on numerical analysis and machine methods are given at Trinity, supported by a laboratory granted by the United Aircraft Computing Laboratory where students work with the latest types of IBM electronic computing equipment.

Information describing registration procedure and containing sample test questions, used by laboratory grades, legal officials, school superintendents, or directly from the National Teacher Examination, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Completed application, accompanied by proper examination fees, will be accepted by the ETS office during November, December, and in January as they are received before January 15, 1952.

English Dept. Sets Precedent

For the first time in the history of Savannah State College, student assistants are being employed as instructional aids. This announcement was made by the English Department head, J. Randolph Fisher.

Due to the shortage of non-student members in the English Department, an immediate need for efficient assistance was felt. To fulfill this need, the English Department, along with Dr. William, head of the Division of Arts and Sciences, and Mr. T. C. Meyers, acting Dean of Faculty, selected three upperclassmen on the basis of their abilities. These students are: Annie Grace Busby, Savannah; Marie Dunby, Atlanta; and Eddie Lindsey, Columbus.

It is hoped that the success of this precedent will develop ideas that will stimulate other departments to follow their lead.

The Tiger's Roar selects the student assistants of the English Department.

FRESHMEN GET IMPRESSIONS

"I think that Savannah State College is one of the loveliest places I have ever seen. There is a very homelike atmosphere at SSC. The President and faculty at this school are for their man or become preparing today's followers to become tomorrow's leaders."

—Geneva Long

"The impression that I have of Savannah State College is that it is an institution which will provide me with the type of education that will help me adjust myself to the changing conditions of the world. It is a place where there is a kind and friendly faculty to guide me on my journey to get a higher education. It is an institution that will help me to develop a well-rounded personality and to become a worthwhile citizen in the community in which I live."

—Julia C. Hendrix

"One to the fact that I have never attended a college before, I have a particular impression of Savannah State College in contrast to other colleges. In contrast with high school life, there is no doubt that SSC is superior. I like living on campus, for it seems so much like home to me."

—Solomon Green

"In telling of my impression of SSC, it would be unfair to begin without mentioning first the beautiful campus. Savannah State has a course of fine accommodations and friendly staffs, and seem to be very interested in the student's future. They are working hard daily to help each student reach the top of the ladder of success."

—Sadie R. Hall

Davis, Calif. (L.P.)—A College of Letters and Science, with four-year curricula leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree, had been established at the Davis campus of the University of California, according to announcement by C. B. Hutchison, vice president of the University and dean of the College of Agriculture.

Designed especially for high school and junior college graduates who desire a general education in liberal arts subjects, the college will offer English literature, and biology. Two other departments, mathematics and physics, can give at least three years of a major. The fourth year in those two fields and the studies in the social sciences, humanities, and arts will be added as soon as possible.

The continued development of the College of Letters and Science through the study of social sciences, arts, and humanities will round out provisions for a general liberal arts program on this campus. In no way will they de-emphasize the College of Agriculture. C. B. Hutchison, "On the contrary, they will furnish electives that will broaden the educational experiences of students in agriculture, home economics, and veterinary medicine," he concluded.

PURPLE PASSAGES

The Way to Health as quoted by Benjamin Franklin:

"Sixth makes all things difficult, but industry all easy, as Poor Richard says; and he that saith, I will not toil all day, and shall scarcely overcome his business at night; while laziness tries to sleep, that poverty soon overtakes him."

"The cat in gloves catches no mice." "A little neglect may breed great mischief; for want of a nail the shoe was lost; for want of a shoe the horse was lost; and for want of a horse the rider was lost, being overtaken and slain by the enemy, all for want of care about a horse-shoe nail."

"In the affairs of this world, men are saved, not by faith, but by want of it." "Poor Richard says, 'The second vice is lying, the first is running in debt.'"

There are no pains without gains.

Last time is never found again.

He that toweh must rest all day and shall scarce overtake his business at night.

Drive thy business; but not that drive you.

He that lives upon hope will die fasting.

One day is worth two tomorrows.

Trouble springs from idleness and idleness falls from needless care.

Friends make feasts and wive men eat them.

Live of each man all round us.

We can make our lives sublime; And, departing, leave behind us Footprints in the sands of time.

POWELL LAB SCHOOL

The P. T. A. held its initial meeting September 21, 1951; during this time officers were elected. This organization is planning a variety of activities for the coming school year.

Mrs. D. C. Hamilton is director of the "Glee Club" and we anticipate having one of the finest choralists of this type in the history of the school. The Glee Club consists of members from the upper grades of the school. Mr. J. Camper is working very cooperatively with Mrs. L. T. Wilson in connection with the Student Council. Mrs. L. Giffin, an August graduate of Savannah State College, is efficiently conducting the fifth grade class, in the absence of Miss M. Williams who is out on sick leave. The faculty and pupils are working for her a speedy recovery.

During one of our recent faculty meetings, the necessity of an electric bell was discussed. Due to the alertness of the principal, the bell was installed during the past week-end. Miss B. Powell and Mrs. M. LeCrier are two Student Teachers working with Mrs. D. C. Hamilton and Mrs. E. O. Matthews. On the contrary, they will furnish electives that will broaden the educational experiences of students in agriculture, home economics, and veterinary medicine," he concluded.

When Autumn's Winds Blow

By Nathan Dell

When Autumn's winds over the land do blow,
And proud little cedars are bent like a bow,
And leaves from the arms of the oak fall,

Flame into gold and begin to fall,
When September's rains in torrents descend

Like tiny arrows on meadows and glens,
And October's frost lies white on the ground,

Glistening in the sunlight for miles around,
When the mornings are crisp and lonely and fair,

And the songs of southbound birds fill the air,
And darkness swift as a shadow falls,

To linger in silence over us all,
When a fall moon, pale and ghostly white,

Penetrates the darkness of the chilled night,
And smoke from chimneys silently rises,

In unknown brights beyond the skies,
When Autumn's rays on all men know,
Hearts aware of wails over the land do blow.

To The Freshmen

By Timothy U. Ryals

I greet you with smiles from SSC. Successful students I hope you'll be; In pursuing the things you greatly desire,
And the things that you highly admire.

We are glad to have you,
And wish you to stay.

We'll be glad to assist you,
In every possible way.

Take advantage of all opportunities
That you are able to get,
And do not let us down.

Your path will not regret,
And your dreams come true;
Your school year be happy
And success to you.

A Prayer

By Nathan Dell

Thank Thee for the day, and for the meadows green,

For the scattered leaf who so gently sing,

Thank Thee for the trees, the grass, and wind,

For the little white cottage just around the bend,

Thank Thee for rivers and dusty roads,
And for all nature's beauty that before us unfolds.

Thank Thee, dear Lord, for morning dew,
For the sun, moon, stars, so bright;
For all the blessings you have sent our way.

Thank Thee, dear Lord, for the day,
For the year that is past,
For the year that is to come.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

"We are faced with an emergency that many experts predict will last perhaps 10 to 20 years," General Herby said. "In order to meet the national emergency in long-range terms, in developing plans, in developing plans of supply of food by skilled manpower. I believe the country is aware that it is logical, in order to meet the national emergency, to defer those with demonstrated ability, instead of gambling on those with lower capacity."

General Herby explained that the intent of Congress was that these students should be deferred only until they have completed their college training. "Deferment means that a registrant shall have his service deferred or postponed until he completes his education. It is by no means an outright exemption."

The 1951 Amendments and Service Act provided that these students be deferred if any registrant who was in a deferred classification on June 19, 1951, or who was thereafter placed in a deferred classification shall remain eligible for military or service until he reaches the age of 35. Therefore, any registrant deferred now as a student will be required, if physically fit, to serve two years in the armed forces sometime before he becomes 35.

Bethune-Cookman Downs Savannah 51-0

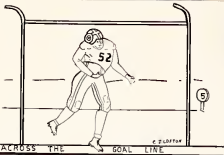

The Bethune-Cookman Wildcats valiantly the SSC Tigers 51-0, in a hard-fought battle at the Bryant Stadium in Lakeland, Fla., before a crowd of approximately 3,000 spectators.

Bethune began the scoring early in the first period when SSC's C. P. Harris was forced to kick from his own 26. Norm Tennant of the Wildcats led the on-again for the victors. He missed the ball down to the Tiger 20 on a flinging 39-yard run. Hossie Turner was responsible for the first tally of the evening.

At least twice State threatened to score, but couldn't seem to get its running attack or passing attack working.

Playing a brilliant game for the losers were Tigermen Robert "Nancy Hanks" Slueman, James Neal, C. P. Harris, and W. F. Johnson, backfield men. Robert Saunders, Harold Taylor, and Frank Johnson put in a superb performance on the line for SSC.

The Wildcats scored twice in the first period, once in the second, three times in the third; and twice in the final frame of the game, to win the prizeful battle by a 51-0 tally. This game marked SSC's second defeat of the season.

Martin Men Dump Forbes Men, 13-6 In Colorful Homecoming Contest

Coach John "Big John" Martin fields of a victorious Savannah State Tiger gridiron crew to defeat the hard-fighting Moreau Tigers on the latter's home grounds in an impressive homecoming classic which ended 13-6 in favor of Savannah State SEC champions.

An amazing ground attack spearheaded the Savannah State drive to victory and damped what would have been a hotly fought "Maroon and White Day" contest for the host team. The Maroon men took to the aid lines in an all out effort to place a homecoming win against the battling Tiger fury. What can happen when Tiger meets tiger was demonstrated before an estimated crowd of 3,000 fans at the Moreau Stadium in Atlanta.

26-21 Margin Marks SSC vs. Albany State

Exploiting for a count of three touchdowns in the final showdown of the game, Savannah State beat the Albany State Rams 26-21.

The October 26 contest saw the two sister schools battle through a hectic and scoreless first half when suddenly the Rams effected a 12 yard scoring run for the initial TD.

Savannah's James Neal plunged for a 67 yard drive to open the score later in the same quarter. C. P. Harris' 23-yard run highlighted the drive.

Robert Slueman and W. F. Johnson led a play which covered 65 yards to surge the Tigers ahead.

Later in the period Harris galloped for 64 yards on a Bam punt.

The Marlin men slipped and John Toney plunged over from the two-foot line to vitiate a 57-yard drive.

Robert Slueman accounted for Savannah State's final touchdown in a 62 yard gridiron run.

Hats Off to Former Athletes

As we look around our neighborhood city, Savannah, we see many prominent and successful men. Many of these men are former athletes of Savannah State.

Among these men are: A. A. "Briek" Mason, tackle, '35-'38; James M. White, tackle, '47-'50; G. H. McCorl, tackle, '36-'39; N. A. Freeman, end, '42-'45; M. C. Blount, end, '40-'41; Robert B. Washington, end, '36; L. D. Law, end, '28-'31; L. W. Schmidt, halfback, '47-'50; B. E. Lockette, halfback, '36-'38; Frank B. Mullins, halfback, '36-'37; and Robert B. Jones, basketball, '36-'38. These are only a few of SSC's successful athletes. To you men, and all other former athletes of SSC, wherever you may be, we proudly take off our hats to you. You engraved your names in the athletic history book of SSC.

Elizabeth City Bows to State

The Savannah State Tigers, 1950 SEAC grid champions, defeated the Elizabeth City Teachers College Pirates, 1950 South Central Conference Champions, 26-7, at the Savannah State College Athletic Field on September 28.

Playing their initial season game before a crowd of over 2,000 fans, the Tiger scored in each quarter except the third.

The Pirates lost their plunder as Frank Johnson ran a sustained drive of 70 yards early in the first quarter scored from the opponent's 28. Short minutes later, Vernon Mitchell of the Tigers recovered the ball for another tally. For the third TD Mitchell recovered a fumble on the opponent's 15.

Two running plays by Joe Hardy scored to total a 14-0 score.

A passing attack led by Slueman, Turner, W. F. Johnson, and C. P. Harris, organized paydirt for the Tigers. C. P. Harris intercepted a pass made by Pirate Freshman back Raymond Blinnhardt, and ran 40 yards for the touchdown.

Woodville Band Is College Guest Band

The Woodville High School Band of Savannah was guest band during the SSC gridiron encounter with Albany State College. Mr. Samuel Gill, a recent graduate of SSC, directs the high school organization.

A splendid performance was given by the musical group from the sidelines on the Athletic Field.

Savannah State Tramples Foe 28-6

Led by Robert "Nancy Hanks" Slueman tally of four TD's, Savannah State College's Tiger defeated the battling Florida Normal Lions 28-6, in a brilliant homecoming clash on Savannah State's athletic field.

From the start the "Sunshine State" lions were hoarse as the Tigers led the first time they got the ball and continued the barrage to win their third straight victory for the season.

The Savannahians got their first touchdown when Slueman cracked over right tackle on New Orleans native, had returned a Lou punt 32 yards to the Florida team's one-yard stripe.

John Chris, guard, also of New Orleans, recovered a Lion fumble in the visitors' end and to score the Tiger's second TD. The conversion was made by C. P. Harris. State's all-American candidate.

After taking over on the Lion's six-yard line where a fourth down punt play was stopped by a punn pass from center, the Tigers scored again during the last moments of the initial period. In two plays the victors led four yards but Robert Slueman galloped over from the 10 for the touchdown. "Sixty-minutes-man" Harris again converted.

A well-oiled Tiger machine rolled up a safety early in the second period when the foe's Alvin Frazier recovered a Tiger fumble in the Florida team's end zone.

Stonning off left tackle for 15 yards, Harris accounted for the next Savannah State TD shortly before the end of the first half. After Harris converted, Coach James Martin, cleverly outdid the Floridians 28-0 at halftime.

Florida broke through the Tiger line by driving from the 2 to score the Lions' lone touchdown during the third quarter.

The longest run of the game was made by the "Nancy Hanks" Slueman—a run of 64 yards suggested by a lateral taken from Joe Hardy on the Tiger 20 during the third period.

Police Palmer's kick from the Lion 27 early in the fourth period was blocked by W. F. Johnson and the fleet Harris scooped it up to race away for another Savannah State score.

A final touchdown was tallied by Harris on a pass from Slueman. Harris again made the conversion.

Score by periods:
Florida Normal 0 0 6 0—6
Savannah State 20 8 7 13—48

Morris College Takes 28-15 Win Over 'State'

The Savannah State Tigers suffering from 175 yards in penalties fowed to an aggressive Morris College Eleven, 28-15, at the latter's home field on October 13.

Leading the attack for the victors were Nathaniel Stephens, Blake Johnson, and Fuller Johnson. Playing good defensive ball for Savannah State was Harold Taylor of Darham, N. C.; Robert Sanders of Columbus, Georgia, and Frank Johnson of Macon, Georgia.

Willie Frank Johnson, Robert Slueman, C. P. Harris, and Vernon Mitchell put in brilliant performances.

C. P. Harris Leading Small Colleges in Punting Yardage

According to the National Collegiate Athletic Association, a national organization which compiles statistics on athletic teams and selects All-American athletes annually, Curtis P. Harris, out-standing end, tackle and fullback, is now leading small colleges through out the United States in punting yardage. Harris' average is 42.6 yards per try.

"60 Minute" Man Harris

C. P. HARRIS, ALL SEAC TACKLE AND END, All-American candidate, 22-year-old, 6 ft. 2 inches, 195 lbs., senior from Columbus, Georgia has an average three years of college football of 52 yards per punt.

1951 EDITION OF SSC TIGERS

THE 1951 SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE TIGERS, SQUAD, TRAINERS, AND COACHES. They are the 1951 Savannah State Tigers, 1950 SEAC Champions and 1951 defending champions. Thus for this season they have won three and lost two games. The Tigers outplayed the strong Florida M. & J. Lions on November 10 in their annual homecoming game at the college stadium on the extreme right in Hardy-Close Jr. "Big John" Murkin, Assistant Coach N. P. Bowman, Jr., and fourth from right standing in row, Assistant Coach Al Frazier. Coach John "Big John" Morris will be depending on Harris, Slueman, and Brown to stop the powerful Florida Normal offensive during the annual homecoming tilt on November 10 at the Savannah State College Athletic Field.

"Nancy Hanks" Slueman

ROBERT "NANCY HANKS" SLOUMIN, triple threat in the fourth period, accounted for Savannah State's final touchdown with a 64-yard pass. He is Savannah State College's foremost ground galley.

WANTEDLost and Found Column

At this time we have wanted quite a distance into our new school year. That means a great deal to us as members of a college family. It means that the students have made several necessary adjustments which were needed to make the most of the college year. However, some during this adjustment period have lost valuable things which their success may depend upon. On the other hand, some have gained.

LOST: Emily Post's Etiquette book. Please return to Savannah State's student body.

LOST: School spirit key felling our team off to victory. Reward.

LOST: Key fished at College Coop. If found, return to Mattie Masley. $5 reward.

WANTED COLUMN

WANTED: Homes for senior residents from 115-125 due to shortage of buses, which caused darkness to shroud our Dem assembly.

WANTED: Another line at the mess hall.

WANTED: Decorative procedures at the bus stop.

WANTED: Procedures for Dorothy Parnell to keep Frank Johnson and Emmitt Demmons.

FOUND COLUMN

FOUND: A safe way to board the Thimblebolt bus. See J. C. Brown at Public Relation office.

FOUND: Girl friends for all football players. Apply Coop between 6-9 o'clock. Ask for Denis Thayer.

FOUND: Fur Vests, Rosewater, DeBers Perry and all freshmen girls, a book on "Keep Your Man."

FOUND: Cute boy friends for Beth Brown and Virginia Baker. Call at Hill Hall for Chubby and Peter Seese.

FOUND: A new method for Hatt Thompson to make eyes at "Talk, dark and handsome."

RESERVE COLUMN

RESERVED: The following, Ann Howard who wears an engagement ring for William Wood, and also Virginia Baker, for Addison Wilcox, Jr.; Ruby Lindsey for John Warkins; Orestis Bentley for W. L. Lackey; Lillie Lanker for Edith Lindsey; and many more of the best couples that stroll our beautiful campus.

Grand Forks, N. D.—(I.P.)—in an effort to "put the 'power' into student government" at the University of North Dakota this year, several changes are embodied in the student body constitution. These provide for a broader representation on the student council, student voting power on the student relations committee, expanded council control of student boards and committees and removal of council members because of absenteeism.

10% Enrollment Increase at SSC

Enrollment at Savannah State College, Georgia's largest institution of higher learning for Negroes, has increased ten per cent above that anticipated for this period by top college officials. The official registration figures show that Savannah State College began its 60th year with 1016 students, 339 of whom are Freshmen. This compares with a 1950 Fall Quarter registration figure of 924 students.

The enrollment follows: Women students 565; men students 471 of this number 130 are veterans. There are 213 students tall veterans enrolled in the Trades School; 192 as special and unclassified, and 146 students enrolled in night and Saturday classes.

SSC's Co-ed Voices Opinion on Changing Name of New York's Seventh Avenue

DeBurs Perry, a freshman co-ed of Savannah State College, had a very interesting experience during a summer vacation in the Empire City. While strolling through the streets of the same, she was asked to voice her opinion on changing the name of "7th Ave." to "Carver Boulevard." He abruptly as stated in the New York Amsterdam News was: "I'm sorry to hear, 'Carver Boulevard.' For one to be honored per cent. Certainly a name like that would sound more important than a plain old number. Could also be a way to familiarize children with the famous man."

Miss Perry, since becoming a part of SSC's family, has displayed remarkable brilliance in academic achievement. She has also affiliated herself with the school band under the direction of Professor L. A. Pyle.

Make Dean's List For Spring Quarter

According to a release from the Dean of Faculty, the following students earned averages of 2.50 and above for the spring quarter, 1951:

Arnett Anderson, Charles Bailey, Burton Brown, L. Brent, Annie Carey, Beverly, Adolphus D. Carter, Ruby Childers, Margaret Chi-chohn, William H. Collins, Chester Lee Conyers, James Demler, Jewell Gamble, Harry Germain.

Colia Bell Hall, Lois Virginia Hines, Heikel Haines, Alfred Jackson, Raymond Jackson, Lillie Mae Jackson, Darnold Knight, Carolyn N. Lewis, Hester J. Lohsen, Jean Z. Moore, Charles Moseley, Benjamin Quattrone, Phoebe Robinson, Folia Strange.

SSC Celebrates Homecoming

Once again the faculty and student body of Savannah State College wide the gates of hospitality to greet the alumni and many friends of the institution at the annual Homecoming. Amid the fall falling leaves, the "Harvest Time" celebration got underway under the supervision of Mr. Frank Thrapp, inductor in the Department of Trades and Industries, and alumnus of the College.

The Royal Trio, featuring the comedy Miss Mary Ford as "Miss SSC" the beautifully decorated buildings, the pomp of the Homecoming parade, the superb performance of the Tigers, the precision of the Marching Band, the meeting of friends, old and new—all these and many more made the 1951 Homecoming one to be long remembered.

Cambridge, Mass. (I. P.)—Harvard College's curriculum does not present religion as effectively or comprehensively as it might, according to Dean Willard L. Perry, head of the Harvard University Divinity School.

"It is unfortunate," Dean Perry declared, "that some students come to College unaware of religion and leave without being awakened."

Any man who brings an interest in religion to Harvard, he said, "will have to hunt for his religious instruction and inspiration, for they will not be handed to him."

Some of the criticism of the College's program, Dean Perry added, stems from denominational groups which have failed to instruct their own members properly before they come to College.

He suggested that formation of a small inter-collegial discussion groups is a way to foster religious understanding would be of value, and felt that faculty members would be glad to do such groups.

It was pointed out here that Dr. Ernest C. Geibell, who recently resigned as president of the University of Chicago to join the faculty of Emory University as a visiting professor for the 1951-52 academic year, called universities about as religion. Dr. Geibell said the attitude of college faculties was "one of indifference or carefully controlled neutrality."

Baltimore, Md.—(I.P.)—The first group of girls to enter a top-ranking woman's college in modern times without high school diplomas will bring a unique educational experiment, said Coe College this year. Of the 15 exceptionally talented girls from sixteen states chosen to study under the experimental acceleration program, none are high school graduates and all are between fifteen and sixteen and a half years old—well below the usual age for admission to college.

The program is being conducted by the Ford Foundation for the Advancement of Education to test whether or not well-qualified girls can speed up the education process. President Otto F. Kraus-har also announced the receipt of $100,000 to be used to provide resident scholarships for a total of thirty students over a three year period.

The experiment will determine whether these unusually talented young women, as judged by scores made in aptitude and achievement tests, can enter college probably after the tenth year of school work and pursue a course in integrated general education during the first two years of college. As Coe's faculty will have the college's widest wide range of choice of liberal courses with selection governed by the individual's progress toward Coe's eight educational objectives.

Chosen from over 200 superlatively applicants the girls will be carefully observed and guided in both academic and emotional problems. Their final test will be at the end of the sophomore year when they take comprehensive examinations which are part of the college curriculum.

Minneapolis, Minn.—(I.P.)—Meeting on the campus of the University of Minnesota representatives of 51 student bodies in American colleges and universities voted 36-15 in favor of the controversial "honor system."

"An honor system should be the basis of education; it should teach the student how to conduct himself, how to develop himself, how to think for himself and stand on his own for what he believes," according to Theodor Stevens of the Duke University student body. He believes that "an honor system should be the basis of an individual's honor, self-discipline, and self-control."

"In favor of the honor system, Cyril H. Wecht from the University of Pittsburgh said: "I believe the entire idea of the honor system is vastly overrated. Setting up a plan which is supposedly based on personal integrity and individual honesty will not make letter students."

Future Teachers Elect Officers

At the close of the last school year, the following officers were elected to lead the Mary Melburne Chapter, Future Teachers of America:

Margolin Holland, president; Carolyn E. Gladden, vice-president; Marie Barnett, recording-secretary; Alberta James, financial secretary; Gloria Pach, treasurer; and Gloria Chisholm and Naris Roberts, chairmen of activities.

On Friday, October 26, 1951, Mr. John Medina, Jr., supervisor of certification, Georgia Education Association, acted as the guest of the F. T. A. in a special assembly in Melburne Hall.

The Chapter is happy to report an increase in membership and that most of its members have pledged to purchase F. T. A. pins.

The chapter was very happy to have had its last year's president, Miss Carolyn E. Gladden, attend "The Institute of Organization Leadership" at the American University, Washington, D. C. Miss Gladden reports that the institute has been successful and hoped that there would be others in the near future to attend the institute.

College Park, Md. (I. P.)—College students progress in scholarly standing, they apparently reverse their attitudes toward religion, as indicated by a survey conducted by Milton D. Havron of the University of Maryland's psychology department.

The religious aspect of the study was an incidental finding, so its main purpose was to determine the relationship between a person's attitudes and his verbal habits. Though the attitude toward religion was chosen, any attitude would have served the purpose.

While the results indicate a trend away from religion as the student advances, it may also be indicative of merely a trend away from religious expression, Havron speculates.

Participating in the survey were approximately 600 students, representing all class standings including those doing graduate work. For the purposes of the study, the students were classified as having either predominantly "religious" or "political-economic" attitudes.

The "religious" person is characterized as being acquainted with biblical history, is a churchgoer, he believes in personal salvation, ethical values, and in a final day of judgment.

The "political-economic" person, on the other hand, thinks more objectively, keeps abreast of politics and economic trends, regards Sunday as a day of rest, believes that material welfare is primary to ethical values, and likes pleasure and bourgeois living.

Those classed as "religious" were found to attend church at least once a month, while among the "political-economic" group, some admitted not having gone to church in several years and none attended as often as once a month.

The questionnaire used in the research contained a list of stimulus words opposite of which were two response words. The subjects were asked to choose the response word that they associated with the stimulus word.

PRINCETON, N. J., September 10. The Law School Administration Test required of applicants for admission to a number of leading American law schools, will be given at more than 100 centers throughout the United States on the mornings of November 17, 1951, February 23, April 26, and August 9, 1952. During 1950-51 over 6,700 applicants took this test, and their scores were sent to sixty law schools.

A candidate must make separate application for admission to each law school of his choice and should inquire of each school whether it wishes him to take the Law School Admission Test. Since many law schools select their freshman classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admission to next year's classes are advised to take either the November or the February test, if possible.

The Law School Admission Test, prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, features objective questions measuring verbal aptitude and reasoning ability rather than acquired information. According to ETS it cannot be "crammed" for. Sample questions and information regarding registration for and administration of the test are given in a Bulletin of Information.

Ballots and applications for the test should be obtained four to six weeks in advance of the desired testing date from Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must be received at least ten days before the desired testing date in order to ETS time to complete the necessary testing arrangements for each candidate.
